BANQUET ROGERS OR GET NO ASSISTANCE

Vancouver Conservatives Are Prodded From Ottawa on Their Dilatoriness

BOWSER BLOCKED ON HIS RESERVE SCHEME

Rogers Hangs Behind Waiting Until Spotlight is Well Cleared

CLAWHAMMERS NEEDED WHEN MINISTER COMES

Vancouver, Aug. 9.—Will the Conservatives of Vancouver give a banquet to Hon. Robert Rogers when the minister of public works visit this city at the end of the month.

They have been forestalled by the Conservatives of Victoria, who have secured an acceptance from the minister for a banquet at the Empress hotel, but H. H. Stevens, M. P., who is now in Ottawa, having failed to find Mr. Rogers in Winnipeg, has wired to the Conservative executive here telling them that they must get busy, and that if they want to get all they want from Mr. Rogers they must give him a banquet.

Mr. Stevens found when he got to Winnipeg that Mr. Rogers had proceeded to the capital to meet the premier on his return from the Atlantic coast, and so he also went to Ottawa. This gave him an opportunity to discuss with the premier and the minister of public works and interior, the difficulties arising out of the desire of the provincial government, via the Bower machine, to grab the various Indian reserves which he (Mr. Stevens) had remarked as part of the Vancouver harbor plans.

Mr. Stevens wires back that he has been successful, and that he has circumvented the provincial government (or information to that effect), and he will leave for home on Tuesday so as to be back here by Monday week to meet Hon. J. D. Hazen and probably Hon. G. E. Foster.

Hon. Mr. Rogers will not be on the coast for some weeks, having stopped off at Regina, Calgary and other points, so that his visit will not be dimmed by the presence of such old and well-trained parliamentarians as Messrs. Foster and Hazen, and he will be able to be in the spotlight all by himself. It is understood to be one of the conditions of the Rogers' banquets, that they shall be full dress affairs, so that the "loyal faithful" who want to do honor to the minister of public works had better get their clawhammer suits out of the moth chests, where most people place them during the heated term.

CATTLE IMPRISONED GIRLS IN AUTOMOBILE

Five Lost on Prairie Spend Night Surrounded by Thousands in Herd.

Muskogee, Okla., Aug. 9.—Five girls in a touring car, lost on the prairie between Muskogee and Chelsea, Thursday night, were caught in a big cattle herd which held them and the car prisoners until near daylight, when the cattle broke up. The girls are May McSpadden, Lizzie Sharpe and Viola Millam, of Chelsea, and Misses Smith and Rucker, of Claremont.

They had decided to drive from Rucker's ranch to Muskogee, 60 miles. They lost the road and darkness caught them on a wide prairie. The motor went wrong and the big herd of cattle began to mill around the machine. There were thousands in the herd. The frightened cattle were jammed so close to the car that at times it almost tipped over. The cattle dispersed after daylight.

GRAFTING OF LIMBS IS NEW SURGICAL MARVEL

London, Aug. 9.—Dr. A. L. Sorel, of New York, who is here for the international medical congress, gave details yesterday of a new marvel in surgery he is studying which is grafting new limbs to replace those lost. The victim of amputation may have the leg of a dead man or woman fixed upon him by surgeons, who will join the nerves and veins, making the dead limb revive and begin new life with its new owner.

VETERAN DIES AGED 103.

Edmonton, Aug. 9.—John Wilkinson, 103 years old, died at the Royal Alexandra hospital last night. He was born in Ireland and came to Canada with his parents when he was five years old. They located at York, now Ontario. He fought in the rebellion of 1837-7 under General William R. Mackenzie. He was a member of the Orange lodge for 77 years and a Mason for 50. His oldest son died last year at the age of 79.

SIR WILFRID LAURIER AT MONTREAL TO HOLD SERIES OF LIBERAL RALLIES

Montreal, Aug. 9.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier arrived in the city yesterday and held a consultation with leading Liberals during the afternoon. An organizer's grand rally will take place at St. Hyacinthe on August 16, at which Sir Wilfrid Laurier and many of the most prominent members of the Liberal party will take part.

According to reports issued last night, based on present indications, it promises to be the largest gathering of the kind ever held in this part of Canada. The rally will be the first of a series which will take place in the province in the next year.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his lieutenants will visit the various centres and place before the electors the attitude of the Liberal party with regard to Imperial matters and their relation to Canada. The naval and fiscal policies of the party and the attitude of the Liberals towards the United States will be detailed.

Sir Wilfrid will also enunciate his views with regard to the opening of new channels through which the natural products of the country may flow.

THOUSAND TREADING SHUSHANNA TRAILS

Dawson Merchants Plan to Open Supply Stores for Winter at Donjek

Dawson, Y. T., Aug. 9.—Three hundred prospectors have left here to date for Shushanna. About eighty with horses have taken all their outfit overland by trail through the Glacier Creek district, along the trail made by the boundary line surveyors. Twenty others have gone over the Canadian government new trail via Coffee creek to the head of the White river, which requires eight days' travel with horses.

Others have ascended the White river by steamer to the mouth of the Donjek, thence overland with horses for ninety miles or by polling to a point up the Snag, packing the rest of the way.

According to telegraph advices received here yesterday, about 300 have gone from Cordova and the same number from Fairbanks, as well as 500 from Dawson, thus making a total of nearly 1,000 already in or near the diggings. If more definite or confirmatory reports are received there are likely to be many more leave here.

Several Dawson merchants plan to open stores at Donjek as a base of supplies ninety miles from the diggings, since there will be good winter sleighing for double teams the rest of the way.

A Dawson company, headed by M. E. Bennett, has been formed and has ordered a wireless plant to be rushed by express to be established in the heart of the new diggings, to connect with other northern wireless points, including Eagle, Fairbanks, Valdez, Sitka and Cordova.

INSUFFICIENT ROOM FOR MEMBERS OF PARLIAMENT

Legislative Chamber at Adelaide to Be Enlarged With Marble Front.

Adelaide, S. Aus., Aug. 9.—The existing Parliament House of South Australia at Adelaide forms a portion only of the original design.

The need for increased accommodation, especially for the legislative council, has long been apparent, and the government placed a sum on the estimates as a first instalment toward the completion of the building. An advisory committee, consisting of members of both houses of the legislature, recommends that the structure should be completed in accordance with plans submitted by the public buildings department.

The additions, facing North Terrace and King William road will be of marble in keeping with the present House of Assembly—and the whole building will present a handsome appearance.

HOLLOWAY PHYSICIAN ASSAULTED WITH WHIPS

London, Aug. 9.—A group of militant suffragettes armed with horsewhips today assaulted Dr. Allan Campbell Pearson, the medical officer of Holloway jail, as he was entering the prison gates.

The attack was made as a protest against the treatment in the jail of Miss May Richardson, under a sentence of three months for breaking windows. Miss Richardson alleged that the doctor had threatened to deal with the suffragettes in such a way as to make them "physical and mental wrecks, after which they would be confined in lunatic asylums."

BULGARIA WAIVES CLAIM.

London, Aug. 9.—The announcement is made in a telegram from Bucharest, Roumania, to-day, that Bulgaria has waived claim to the port of Kavala on the Aegean Sea. It true this concession greatly improves prospects for lasting peace.

PRINCE SULKOWSKI NOW AT VANCOUVER

Declines Invitations to Talk and Registers Under an Assumed Name

Vancouver, B. C., Aug. 9.—Prince Sulkowski and his Los Angeles bride, for whom California officers are looking for, are staying at the Hotel Vancouver here and have engaged passage by the Empress of Russia for Japan, sailing next Wednesday. Mrs. Freese, the bride's mother, is also here and occupies a room adjoining the apartment of the prince and his young wife. The couple registered as Mr. and Mrs. Charles Norsang, from Seattle, and since their arrival here have been living very quietly. The prince declined to come down from his room when newspaper men called this morning. At 11 o'clock he sent word that he was still in bed and could see no one. Members of the hotel staff and other officials identify the picture of the young Los Angeles woman as the person they know as Mrs. Norsang.

San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 9.—Marshall Elliot gave up to-day his search for Prince Sulkowski, when a deputy returned from Lake Tahoe reporting he had been unable to serve a federal warrant in which the prince is charged with violating the Mann White Slave Act, and that no trace of his presence had been found.

The warrant was issued at the request of the United States attorney at Los Angeles as the result of information given by Mrs. Clara Melchior, a Viennese laundress, Prince Sulkowski married Miss Marie Louise Freese, a Los Angeles society girl, and left on his honeymoon just before the warrant was sworn out.

HALF HOLIDAY ASKED BY BELGIUM WORKERS

Opposition From Business Men Who Are Against Duplication

Ghent, Belgium, Aug. 9.—Certain banks and financial agencies in Brussels have adopted the system established in England of closing at noon on Saturdays, establishing what is termed the "Samedi Anglaise," and an active propaganda is being carried on with a view to the adoption of this practice in factories and the majority of commercial establishments.

The question has become one of acute interest in the industrial and commercial world, and while favored by a large contingent, it nevertheless encounters serious opposition on the part of many business men who claim that working people, and especially those of socialist affiliations, already observe Monday as a half or even a whole holiday, and that the recognition of the Saturday half holiday would result in seriously hampering industrial and commercial operations throughout the entire country.

TO EXECUTE TRIBESMEN MUST FIRST FIND THEM

Amoy, China, Aug. 9.—The Japanese government demanded to-day that the Chinese authorities here order the execution of three Tungan tribesmen and also pay an indemnity for the destruction of property and the killing and wounding of a number of Formosans in the recent clan fighting in this city. The demands must be met by to-morrow, according to the note sent by the Japanese.

The Chinese officials agreed to the conditions, but declared that it would be impossible to arrest the clansmen so quickly, as they have fled from the interior.

LIND CARRIES PLANS FOR MEXICAN PEACE

President's Representative Will Reach Mexico City Probably on Monday

PROPOSALS OF WILSON PUBLISHED NEXT WEEK

Huerta's Hostility Believed to Be Due to Unofficial Misrepresentation

THE UTMOST DIPLOMACY IS BEING DISPLAYED

Washington, D. C., Aug. 9.—John Lind, President Wilson's personal envoy to Mexico, arrived off Vera Cruz on the battleship New Hampshire to-day. He probably will not be in Mexico City before Monday and the diplomatic crisis between the United States and Mexico is not expected to culminate before that time.

The next development in the situation is expected when Mr. Lind, through Charge O'Shaughnessy presents to Provisional President Huerta President Wilson's proposals to bring about peace. These will be published simultaneously in Washington and Mexico City and at the same time they will be submitted as a matter of information to the powers of the world.

Whether Mr. Lind's presence in Mexico will be "unbearable," as has been stated by the Mexican minister of foreign affairs, will then actually become known. Administration officials here are reluctant to believe that will be Huerta's attitude after it is officially known what Mr. Lind's purpose is. They think the view that the attitude of hostility had been aroused by unofficial misrepresentation of the purposes of the mission.

Though there is no official confirmation of the statement it is said the passage of the New Hampshire has been a slow one purposely to give the Mexican government opportunity to digest the situation. The ship could have made the passage in twenty-six hours and reached Vera Cruz yesterday afternoon. There are, however, some physical obstacles which will naturally delay Mr. Lind's arrival in Mexico City until Monday.

Because of her heavy draught the New Hampshire will be obliged to anchor five or six miles off Vera Cruz and navy officials doubt if any effort will be made to land the party to-day. The trip from Vera Cruz up to Mexico City ordinarily takes twelve hours. Before Mr. Lind arrives, Charge O'Shaughnessy is expected to explain to the Mexican foreign office that Mr. Lind comes only as an adviser to the embassy, not to take a part in Mexican politics and on a thoroughly peaceful mission.

The administration maintains its confidence when Huerta understands the fact there will be no obstruction to Governor Lind's mission, and that he will be allowed to discharge his duties as adviser to the American embassy without molestation.

The understanding is based on the belief that Mr. Lind will scrupulously observe the etiquette of diplomacy and will not undertake to raise an issue to his status by addressing himself directly to the General Huerta or the Mexican foreign office, availing himself of the service of the charge of affairs as an intermediary for anything that he may care to say.

Vera Cruz, Mexico, Aug. 9.—John Lind arrived here on board the battleship New Hampshire at one o'clock. He at once transferred to the battleship Louisiana. Not the slightest opposition was planned by the port authorities to the landing of Governor Lind.

Paris, Aug. 9.—All the news dispatches from Washington published in France describe a rupture between the United States and Mexico as being probably close at hand. Comment on the Mexican situation is sparse. It recognizes the difficult responsibility of the peace policies of President Wilson and Secretary of State Bryan are likely to disappear in the presence of realities.

PATIENT AT ASYLUM IS BLAMED FOR FIRE

Brockville, Aug. 9.—Last night the barns of the Stag farm north of Brockville, acquired some time ago by the government as an addition to the lands of the Eastern Hospital for the Insane, were burned with their contents, including a quantity of hay, grain and implements. The fire is supposed to have been the work of Margaret Sullivan, a patient. She was detected near the barn where the blaze started and was so badly burned that she succumbed to her injuries a few hours later. Damage was done to the extent of about $4,000, with no insurance.

CANADA HAD LARGEST SURPLUS WHEN FIELDING WENT OUT; GOVERNMENT TO SEEK LARGE LOAN IN GREAT BRITAIN

INCREASE DURING JULY OF DOMINION PUBLIC
DEBT $6,529,104; CUSTOMS REVENUE DECREASE

Four Months of Fiscal Year Shows Increased Expenditure of $9,000,000 and at Next Session of Parliament Further Demand Will Be Made by Railway Company
for Funds

Ottawa, Aug. 9.—From reports here it is evident that London has very certain information that the Canadian government will next session seek a large loan in Great Britain. The financial statement for the first four months of the year is part confirmation of this. The increase of the public debt in July was $6,529,104, and for the first time in several years the month's customs revenue shows an actual decrease.

For the four months the total expenditure shows an increase of nine millions compared with the same period in 1912. Six millions of this represents payments to Mackenzie & Mann as progress payments on the seventeen millions voted last session. The total revenue for the four months was $57,090,604, an increase of nearly four and a half millions. Customs revenue in that period was $28,332,734, an increase of $1,653,166, although July shows a decrease of $54,165. At the end of July the net debt of the Dominion was $298,069,578. The charge in London is that Canada has over-borrowed herself.

This was the report when several municipal financial ventures failed in Great Britain. But London has been careful to say that this charge does not lie with the Dominion government, which has been very moderate in its loan issues as compared with other overseas Dominions, and has met out of the revenue much that might properly be called capital expenditure. It is thought, therefore, that the prospect of a federal loan will be regarded in London with favorable interest. For next session there will surely be another demand from certain railways for further financial assistance, and if construction has proceeded satisfactorily from having an advance made will be favorably considered. Additional demands will be made, too, on the federal treasury by the provinces after the coming premier's conference, and these also may be taken from a loan and properly charged to capital account. Far from having an adverse effect on the investor, it is thought that a general application will draw attention to Canadian investment.

An interesting summary of British friendly opinions is given in the London Times as follows: "They admit that the borrowings of Canada during the past few years have been at a rate without precedent, but they declare that her growth in population and productivity has also been at a rate without precedent and that the money borrowed has on the whole been well spent. It has not been con-

FOUGHT WAR AGAIN ON LINER PANNOIA

Greeks, Servians, Bulgarians and Turks Fight in Steerage on Atlantic.

New York, Aug. 9.—Officers of the Cunard liner Pannonia which arrived here to-day from Trieste reports that a miniature Balkan war occurred almost continuously during the 26 days' voyage. Among the steerage passengers were several hundred ex-volunteers, Greeks, Servians, Bulgarians and Turks, who were returning to this country after taking part in the Balkan war. Frequent riots between these hostile factions in the first few days resulted in several combatants going to the sick bay with severe stab wounds.

Capt. Capper thereupon ordered a general disarming, but the fighting continued with whatever missiles were at hand. The nationalities were separated into groups, but on meeting for meals the battle was resumed. As a precautionary measure the stewards removed the knives and forks from the tables, all the steerage passengers, of whom there were 1,121, being obliged to eat with spoons. It is stated that the women in the warring camps fought as fiercely as the men.

CHARGES MADE AGAINST BRITISH COLUMBIA MEN

Commission Appointed to Inquire Into Administration of Inland Revenue Department.

Ottawa, Aug. 9.—Charges of malfeasance in office which have been brought against J. E. Miller, inspector of inland revenue for British Columbia, and L. B. Parkinson, collector of inland revenue at Vancouver, are to be inquired into. The investigation into the charges will be made by Henry Lalor, inspector of tobacco factories for the Dominion, and Dr. J. K. Barrett, district inspector of inland revenue for Manitoba district. The order-in-council authorizing the inquiry, which appears in the Canada Gazette to-day authorizes the joint commissioners to conduct an inquiry into matters pertaining to the administration of the affairs of the inland revenue department within the province of British Columbia.

REBELLION UNCHECKED.

Peking, Aug. 9.—Consular and other reports from the Yangtze indicate that the Chinese government is making little headway against the rebels at Nanking and Shanghai. The railway from Tien Tsin to Peking is not yet opened. A dispatch from Ching Kiang states that the rebels have offered to surrender the forts for $75,000.

HUNDRED THOUSAND HINDUS FOR CANADA

Immigration Department Has Report of Direct Steamship Line

TO IMPORT IMMIGRANTS UNDER PEONAGE SYSTEM

Cold Business Deal Without National Sentiment for Better Conditions

BRITISH COLUMBIA GETS $4,430,000 HEAD TAX

Ottawa, Aug. 9.—That a well-developed scheme is matured to bring upwards of a hundred thousand Hindus, men and women, to Canada by the direct line of steamers which it has been rumored is to be started between India and British Columbia, is the report that has been received from confidential agents of the Immigration department.

It is thought that so carefully has the scheme been prepared that the Hindus will be able to prove that the newcomers will not be a public charge after their usual and necessary $25 has been spent. It is stated that wealthy Hindus in India and some of those already in British Columbia have formed companies which intended to work the immigrants under what might be termed a peonage system, something rather worse than many Chinese now endure and not by any means as good as the community idea of the Doukhobors. The combination of these companies, it is thought, is responsible for the purchase of certain steamers once used as transports by the Japanese government, and it is these vessels, four in number, which are intended as the fleet to bring the Hindus by direct line from the land of their birth. According to one man who has studied the situation closely, there is no national sentiment looking to better the conditions of the individual Hindu behind the proposed wholesale immigration. It is a cold business deal in flesh and blood, at most equal to the slave trade of the olden days, though the Hindus living under proper conditions in their native land will come by their own consent. This latter phase of the menace, it is hoped, will when the attention of the India office is drawn to the threatened invasion, result in some action being taken before the world immigrants are shipped.

Eastern papers have significantly, in view of the approaching better terms' commission, drawn attention to the fact that half of the $3,351,092 paid in head tax by Chinese in the past three years up to March 31 last has gone to the British Columbia treasury.

OLYMPIA RATE EXPERT CALLED BY COMMISSION

Railway Board Will Hear O. O. Calder-head on Transcontinental Freights Question.

Olympia, Wash., Aug. 9.—A transportation rate expert, O. O. Calderhead, of the state public service commission, has been called upon to go to Victoria, B. C., within a few days to give testimony in the case of the railroad commission of Canada against the C. P. R., relative to equitable transcontinental freight rates.

The case at point is considered one of vital importance not only to British Columbia, but to this state and others of the northwest. The C. P. R. employed some time ago an expert from the east who drew up a system of rates based solely upon the cost of operation. In view of the mountainous conditions prevailing throughout British Columbia, the western portion of the transcontinental line, this system would mean high rates for all shipping to, from and between British Columbia points with lesser ratings on the easier portions of the line.

KING'S SYMPATHY IS SENT TO MRS. CODY

London, Aug. 9.—King George conveyed yesterday to Mrs. Cody and her sons his sincere sympathy and sorrow at the death of F. S. Cody, the aviator.

The king telegraphed: "I have received with profound regret the news of the death of Mr. Cody. I saw him on several occasions at Aldershot and I always appreciated his dogged, determined and dauntless courage. His loss will be much felt at Aldershot, where he did so much for military aviation."

UNITED STATES CROP DAMAGED BY DROUGHT

Loss of 300,000,000 Bushels of Corn Since July 1 Officially Reported

Washington, D. C., Aug. 8.—A loss of 300,000,000 bushels of corn, the nation's greatest farm crop, has resulted from the great damage wrought by drought and other conditions since July 1, the government's experts estimated today in their August crop report. A total production of 2,672,000,000 bushels of corn was predicted. This is 425,000,000 bushels less than last year's crop. The general condition of corn was placed at 75.8 per cent. of a normal, compared with 86.3 on July 1.

Kansas was hit hardest, the condition there having been reduced from 81 per cent. in July to 30 per cent. on August 1. Oklahoma comes next with a condition of 44 against 57 in July, and Nebraska reported 47 against 90 July 1. These three states have almost 19 per cent. of the total area planted to corn this year.

A bright spot in the monthly grain report, however, was the preliminary statistics, showing a production of 511,000,000 bushels of winter wheat. This is the greatest harvest of wheat ever gathered in the United States, exceeding the record crop of 1902 by 10,000,000 bushels. To-day's figures exceeded by 28,000,000 bushels the estimate made by the department in July.

Spring wheat was given an increased estimate of production, it being 15,000,000 bushels more than the July estimate, the total being placed at 233,000,000 bushels. With the bumper winter wheat crop and a fairly good spring wheat production, the total harvest of all wheat is estimated at 744,000,000 bushels.

PROFESSOR SHORTT ON ECONOMIC ADVANTAGES

Widened Gap Between Imports and Exports Will Close With Settlement of Country

Ottawa, Aug. 8.—The balance of trade in Canada, which for the past ten years has shown an increasing preponderance of imports over exports, is the subject of an article in the Census and Statistics Monthly by Professor Adam Shortt, in which he gives his views of a phenomenon which has caused a lot of misgiving to many people. After commenting on the fact that for the twelve months ending April 30, 1913, imports totalled $752,880,978, as against exports totalling $585,750,938, Professor Shortt notes that during this period of expanding imports the balance of exchange in gold has not been against Canada, but on the whole in her favor. The explanation, says Prof. Shortt, is simple, though the secondary consequences may be somewhat complex and remote.

The great proportional excess of the imports over exports has at once resulted from, and is offset by, borrowing of outside capital by the Canadian government, corporations and individuals and by the direct investment of outside capitalists in Canadian real estate, mines, timber and various enterprises. The largest investments of this kind, representing hundreds of millions, have been made by the various public authorities—the Dominion and provincial governments, and the municipal corporations. Besides these, the three great railway systems and many other corporations and other investments aggregate a vast total. The majority of the investments have been of such a nature that, while the capital has expanded within a few years, many of the returns from them, however beneficial in their effects, will not take economic form of the kind of expenditure of various kinds, etc.

The professor goes on to point out that only a comparatively small amount of the capital borrowed on Canadian account has come to the country in the shape of money, almost the whole of it having been in the shape of goods. Thus the gap between exports and imports has been steadily widening, and will continue to do so until the construction of railways and the building of cities fall off. Then, invariably a large proportion of the people must return to the consumption of goods for more immediate consumption and export. When this movement begins, the gap will gradually close, until when the principal and interest of the money come to be paid, exports will exceed imports with as little disturbance to the exchanges as has been found in the past.

BERLIN CAR DEPOT LARGEST IN WORLD

Station 200 Meters Long Accommodates Five Hundred Electric Cars.

Berlin, Aug. 8.—Berlin is now in proud possession of the largest and best arranged street car depot in the world. It has just been opened at Lichterfelde, a district on the eastern outskirts of the city, where it has been in process of building for several years. The station is 200 meters long and over 100 wide. Five hundred large electric cars can be accommodated upon twenty-six lines, which are laid abreast.

One wing of the building is divided up into workshops, store rooms and rooms for the men when off duty. There is a well-organized restaurant and reading room for the employees, who, when all the arrangements are complete, will number over 2,000. For the better accommodation of these the company intends to build a garden suburb of model dwellings in the vicinity. This huge depot is the twenty-first constructed for the Berlin Electric Street Car Company.

AGRICULTURAL PROGRESS MADE IN SOUTH AFRICA

Considerable Headway in Horse-Rearing, Ostrich Farming and Land Cultivation.

Pretoria, So. Africa, Aug. 8.—A report on the census taken throughout South Africa shows that some progress has been made agriculturally, in spite of many drawbacks. Since 1904 the 'car' within the union has increased by 45 per cent.; horses, 64 per cent.; ostriches, 106 per cent.; woolled sheep, 84 per cent.; poultry, 66 per cent. The only decrease registered is in mules.

Horse rearing has made considerable headway, as the increase in the number of animals ranges from 13 per cent. in Natal to 180 per cent. in the case of the Orange Free State. Ostrich farming has made steady progress in the Cape province, with an increase of 103 per cent. In 1904 there were in the Transvaal province only 14 ostriches; 5,441 was the number in 1911.

Turning to the land itself, there are some 6,976,043 acres of land under cultivation; 464,102 of the above is under irrigation.

DOMINION FINANCES.

Ottawa, Aug. 8.—The financial statement of the Dominion for the first four months of the present fiscal year shows total revenue of $57,080,004, an increase of $4,823,287, as compared with the corresponding period of last year. Customs revenue increased by $1,483,169, the post office revenue by $400,000, and excise revenue by $480,000. Railway subsidies paid during the four months totalled $6,516,705.

BRITISH INTEREST IN MEXICO REVOLUTION

Capitalists Anxious to Have Huerta Administration Recognized by Washington

(Special Correspondence.)
London, July 26.—The Mexican revolution may not apparently interest this country, but its progress is being watched with a good deal of anxiety in certain circles for very obvious reasons. In the first place there is the foreign office uneasy lest it may be dragged into the affairs of the republic, then there is Lord Cowdray, with his vast oil concessions, since he cannot be unaware that the revolutionaries who seem to be winning are ill-disposed to use no stronger term—to his intervention in their doing; next comes the Admiralty, which realizes that the oil supply of the navy, potential though it may be, is seriously menaced in respect of this concession of Lord Cowdray's, which is rapidly becoming familiar to everyone under the appellation of the "Mexican Eagle Company;" and finally there are the big financial houses who dabble in things Mexican, who all know by this time that the era of more or less irresponsible loans to the particular party which happens to have seized the reins of power in that disturbed land is over. The situation is such as will require very close watching, and I do not think that we have heard the last by any means of the great oil question. In any case, matters must come to a head very shortly, and if the revolutionists really do win, then there may be developments and disclosures as to the part played by a number of international commercial organizations. Everything turns on the action of the United States, which is fuses to recognize the new government in Mexico. Washington never takes its lead from what the European powers do or do not do with respect to Mexico; it never to quote the most historic case—recognized the government of the ill-fated Maximilian, and events proved the accuracy of the judgment of those responsible for this policy.

It has excited a great deal of comment this week that on the eve of the threatened collapse of the Huerta party in the city of Mexico, King George was induced to receive the new Mexican minister, Senor Carbajal y Rosas, after he had been waiting in this country since May 15, and there is no doubt whatever that the incident was used in Mexico by the provisional government with the object of bolstering up its waning authority. It is very dangerous—dangerous at any rate for this country—to play off British policy in Mexico against that of the United States, and there are a great many frankly apprehensive at this new development of trust methods in their influence in British diplomacy.

Lord Cowdray owns about half the oil lands in Mexico, and there is no doubt that he has to meet the fierce competition of the Standard Oil Company, but our experience is that one of these typical concerns is about as bad as the other, and there is no possibility of working up any sympathy whatever for the woes of either. The Admiralty, however, is naturally perturbed. It is quite impossible to get even at present sufficient oil for the navy, and the difficulty will become steadily greater. Hence, it would not be easy to see Lord Cowdray on the top in Mexico, only if the constitutionals succeed Lord Murray is likely to have a particularly onerous task when, as is shortly expected, he turns up in Mexico to tell the new government that "Coddin's the friend, not Lord." They have their own views on that.

KAISER'S SON WOODED AMERICAN.

Romance of Prince Joachim Told in Paris Paper.

Paris, Aug. 8.—The Cri de Paris reviews the romance of Prince Joachim, the sixth son of the Kaiser, who dislocated his knee during regimental manoeuvres and was sent to Egypt presumably on account of his health. The trip to Egypt is said to have been really a punishment inflicted on the Prince by the Kaiser for having backed his comrade's promissory notes which had not been met. The affair was hushed up, the Kaiser ordering the money paid and the comrade sent to Argentina.

Prince Joachim when in Cairo met Miss Olive, of Norwich, Conn., and was deeply impressed. Vows were exchanged and the Prince and the American girl met again this summer in Berlin. There the romance likely ends, as the Kaiser, unlike Emperor Joseph, is rigorously opposed to mesalliances and morganatic marriages.

PRINCE PREFERS TO BE HERR HOCHSTADT

Berlin, Aug. 8.—Prince Nicolaus of Thurn and Taxis, one of the most ancient of German noble families, has renounced his rank and title. The prince, who is 29 years of age, is a naval officer, and of singularly simple tastes.

He has requested the prince regent of Bavaria, who is the head of the house of Thurn and Taxis, to permit him to drop his rank and take the name of the bourgeois, but this was not entirely complied with. A compromise has therefore been arranged whereby the prince is to be known in future as Baron von Hochstadt. It is said that in time he intends to be simply known as Herr Hochstadt.

TESTING VOICES FOR MENDELSSOHN CHOIR

SUPPLY OF OIL FOR THE ADMIRALTY

Dr. Augustus S. Vogt Preparing for Invasion of Europe in 1915

Toronto, Aug. 9.—Reorganization of the Mendelssohn choir for the coming season will take place as soon as Dr. Augustus S. Vogt, the director of the society, completes his trials of voices. During the past year the choir gave no concerts and held no rehearsals, because Dr. Vogt was in Europe studying the choral situation in cities of Great Britain and the continent and making preliminary arrangements for a visit by his singers to Europe in 1915.

Although the choir will not begin rehearsals until the fall Dr. Vogt is already making up his list of singers, going through the sections of his organization of two years ago, voice by voice, and making up the roster of performers for his concerts of February, 1914. This work of selecting the membership is of more importance for the director than ever before, because the choir having won for itself by its appearances in 1911 recognition as one of the leading musical societies of North America, is not only to maintain that position, but is to seek recognition in Europe as one of the leading musical societies of the world.

Dr. Vogt has the double relation of choral interpreter and musical pedagogue in the community of Toronto. His conducting, which to the outside world is the most significant part of his work, has occupied a comparatively small part of his time. His choros, which has brought him the reputation of one of the greatest conductors of the day, demands his attention only for the routine of rehearsals the first half of the season and for a week of concerts in February. Otherwise he is engaged as a professor of music at the Toronto Conservatory of Music. Either to he has held the post of piano professor in that institution. But now he is its director, succeeding Edward Fisher. In his new post, Dr. Vogt will not only have a larger pedagogic influence than heretofore, but he will be able to give more thought to his choir. He plans no immediate enlargement of the concert schedule of his organization. He will go on with the rehearsals of the singers in the music hall of the conservatory, and he will prepare the usual week of performances which he gives in midwinter.

The severity of Dr. Vogt as a drill master is a favorite theme for comment among the members of the Mendelssohn choir. They say that the demand he makes inexorably is that every singer shall keep an eye constantly on his baton. They say that it is a point of discipline with him to lead the choir into some flowing passage, right toward a climax, and just before he reaches the culminating chord to stop beating time. What happens to the singer who utters a sound after the baton stops they do not say. But this device of the director for testing attention, which in many societies would doubtless seem arbitrary and harsh, is accepted loyally and good-humoredly by the Mendelssohn singers. Only preliminaries in the plan of the tour are as yet announced. The choir that goes across the sea will be substantially the one that appeared on the tour of cities of the United States in 1911; for the membership, inflexible as is the rule for reorganization every season on the basis of merit, does not significantly change at the voice trials. Every singer does his best to retain his place, for he knows that there is more than one waiting to supplant him. The tour will start, according to present plans, with a concert in Ottawa. One other city will be visited in North America, and that is Boston, where a concert will be given and whence the choir will sail.

AMERICAN AVIATOR RACED WITH TRAIN

Washington, D. C., Aug. 9.—C. Marvin Wood, the American aviator, yesterday attempted a non-stop race in his monoplane with a train from New York to Washington and thence to Fort Myer, Va., for exhibition flights. He reached his destination late in the afternoon after he had been compelled to interrupt his flight on a farm near Gaithersburg, Md., sixteen miles from Washington. Wood won his race with the train, making the landing at Gaithersburg at one minute after 9 o'clock, forty minutes before the train rolled into the station. He failed to break all the American records he had hoped to smash, but claimed to have established new marks for non-stop flying between two points and for duration.

A Waist Special for Saturday

WE have only just received a new shipment of lovely Net and Lace Waists. These were bought by Mr. Campbell in the East some time back, to be made at special price concessions, during the Summer slack season at the factory. They should have been here a month ago, but for some reason were delayed. They are too late for our requirements, therefore we intend to clear them in quick time and have marked them so low as to ensure a flutter of buying enthusiasm to-day and Monday. Remember, they are perfectly new, and made in the very latest styles. They are white or Paris shade fine net, handsomely embroidered scroll or floral design, all lined through with pure silk. Some are allover embroidered net, and some have rich applique yokes, motifs, etc.; there are long or short sleeves among them, also high or low necks. The low necks are a combination of pretty Dresden silk or satin in Robespierre and Byron styles, and the high necks are of tucked net, lace, etc. They are divided into two groups at only $3.90 and ... $2.90

Many of these high-class Waists are worth double these prices.

HOW MAUREL LEARNED TO ACT.

Friend of Great Barytone Told Him of His Shortcoming.

London, Aug. 9.—The secret of Chappell's (the Russian singer who has been so successful in London) seems to be the same as that of Maurel, one of the first of the great operatic barytones.

Maurel began as a star singer in the old style. One day when he was practicing in his hotel he received a visit from a painter who lived in a studio at the top of the hotel. The painter came to say how much he had enjoyed the singing of the great barytone. "Your voice enters my room like a ray of sunshine. I have bought a seat for tomorrow to hear you in 'William Tell'." Maurel did not see the painter again.

For some time and when he met him in the street some weeks afterward he asked him if he had been to "William Tell." The painter seemed very cold about it. He had been greatly disappointed. He complained that Maurel had not given "the impression of the character of a fearless hunter." Maurel took this to heart, and from that time studied the art of acting until it was said of him that he was "an artist who could act and paint with his voice."

Verdi said of Maurel, after the first performance of "Otello": "When he sings his best he makes one forget he is singing." It seems to be the same with Chappell.

JAPAN GOVERNMENT WILL NOT APPEAL TO HAGUE

London, Aug. 9.—The Japanese government has no intention of initiating immediately a test case on the California alien land ownership regulation, says a dispatch to the Times from Tokyo, but rather will wait for some special opportunity to dispute the act solely on the basis of treaty rights. The correspondent adds that it is not Japan's purpose to appeal to the Hague court of arbitration or to demand naturalization rights for her subjects.

GOODBYE, NEW ZEALAND!

The end of a memorable week closes yet another chapter of the marine history which is being made so rapidly these days in Victoria. For to-day the New Zealand—the largest and most powerful fighting machine on the Pacific—raises anchor and sets forth to carry the White Ensign into the great Latin ports both north and south of the equator before resting again under the Canadian flag in the waters of Halifax harbor. We have no hesitation in saying that her stay in this port, short as it has been, will be a life-long memory to all those who had the privilege of visiting the Leviathan, of marvelling at her mechanical wonders, and of admiring the devices of deadly destruction which have only been evolved after many decades of progressive invention.

During their brief stay here captain, officers and crew have made many personal friends, and their warm hospitality, kindness and friendliness have helped to forge, we hope, bonds of mutual appreciation. Wherever they have gone, their enthusiasm, modesty and good humor have made them universally popular, with the result that their reception at the hands of Victoria people has been no less hearty and sincere than that which we hope and believe will some day be extended to Canadian sailors manning a Canadian fleet. While we cannot but feel regret that they are leaving us to visit strange places and distant seas, there still remains the sweet savor of personal friendships that have been formed and of broader ties of kin that have been strengthened by the visit.

To-night the harbor will look strangely deserted without the New Zealand. She has come to be regarded as a fitting part of the landscape, and when she ploughs her way outward at six o'clock this evening the city will lose something which has been interwoven, in an incredibly short space of time, into the texture of its daily life—the visualization of a cordial sentiment existing between all Canadians and the people of that other Dominion whose name the great battle cruiser bears. And yet on the lips of every individual of the thousands of Victorians who will see her depart will be the spoken wish and in their hearts the earnest hope that the thunder of the salute means not farewell, but only an "au revoir." Of one thing Victoria is certain—that whenever the New Zealand comes here again she is assured of a welcome that will be no less heartfelt and no less spontaneous than it has been on this present occasion.

To all true Canadians the sight of the great watchdog lying in harbor has been a pleasing foretaste of what will prove to be a familiar scene when the whirligig of time brings us a real Canadian navy to guard Pacific shores. The knowledge of her supreme force and efficiency and the impression of her silent strength cannot but endow all with a feeling of complete confidence. To have this confidence and serenity permanently well-richest for us than fine gold, for with battle cruisers grim and powerful like her to guard our shores nothing in the Pacific could challenge their defence of us.

SUCCESSFUL PARADE.

From every point of view yesterday's parade, the chief feature of Carnival Week, was the finest that has ever been witnessed in this city. All Victorians must have turned out to witness the pageant, and the hearty cheering which greeted the especially fine effects amply repaid the exhibitors for all the care and pains which had obviously been expended upon them. The policing of the route was remarkably effective and enabled the many thousands who witnessed the progress of the parade to do so without inconvenience or discomfort of any kind.

Not the least pleasing feature of the cavalcade was the presence of a notable company of the Tillikums from Seattle, who, entering heartily into the spirit of the occasion, played a spectacular part in the procession. There is no room for doubt that social reciprocity of this nature helps considerably to cement good feeling and fellowship between our own citizens and those to the south of the line. Nor would the cordiality of their reception all along the line of route serve to lessen the entente which happily exists.

The various friendly societies and orders in the city were conspicuous for the size and magnificence of their floats, and while touching on this phase a word of commendation is due to the Order of Good Templars for the unfortunate accident which put them out of the parade and utterly destroyed an attractive exhibit which had taken a large sum of money and many hours of patient thought and labor to evolve. Many of the smaller entries were also particularly beautiful, resplendent as they were with flowers and greenery, in addition to artificial decorations of all kinds.

The Victoria Fire Brigade, a corps of which the city has every right to be proud, rode a brave showing in their spick and span uniforms, their generally smart appearance attracting very favorable comment from both local people and visitors. The engines and equipment appeared to be in perfect condition and there is every indication that Chief Davis aims to turn out the best drilled and best equipped company of fire-fighters on the continent of America.

The appearance of the veterans of past campaigns was a highly popular feature of the parade and served to remind us that, while youth must be served, there is always a place in the heart for those who have dared and done in days gone by. While it is impossible to mention every feature of the pageant, there is no doubt that public spirit and private enterprise combined more wholeheartedly and successfully on this occasion than on any other in the history of the city.

The Oriental problem in British Columbia has assumed a new phase. The plodding Asiatic is no longer content to remain a hewer of wood and a drawer of water for his Occidental brother. He aspires to ownership of land, and that is something to which the white farmer objects. And yet the aspirations of the Orientals are just what might have been expected, but which were not anticipated when the farmers of Duncan and neighborhood not so very long ago were clamoring for the reduction of the head tax upon their operations because of a lack of cheap labor. Evidently there can be but one real solution of the Oriental problem.

Chief Langley and his force of the finest during the present week were confronted with a real "emergency," and they came through the ordeal with flying colors. If any of the undesirable element which usually finds a field for its operations in the circumstances which have prevailed here this week succeeded in passing the cordon that guarded the docks, they profited but little by their success. British justice is evidently a terror to evil-doers. Furthermore, the very best of order was maintained during the week, and the police force was not over-officious at that.

In one issue the Ottawa organ of Premier Borden announces authoritatively that parliament will not meet until January, and in the succeeding issue the public are informed that the members will be called together in November. The truth probably is that Mr. Borden in this as in other matters does not know exactly what to do. He had such a trying time during the last session that he doubtless desires to postpone as long as possible another set-to with the pestiferous Grits. But in the meantime what about the German menace that constituted such a grave emergency?

The visit of the battleship New Zealand, thanks to the fine courtesy of her captain and crew, has awakened in the breasts of Victorians memories of old times when it was a common thing to see jolly bluejackets in our streets. It has also created a feeling that no Canadian naval policy will be satisfactory, adopting a phrase once uttered by Sir Richard McBride, that does not make adequate provision for the protection of the Pacific coast.

The Colonist ventures the opinion that possibly the Premier and the Attorney-General may have some faint idea respecting the legal tenure upon which reserves are held by Indians. That is a bold thing to suggest in light of the fact that the Attorney-General has had several tilts with the Dominion upon this and other questions and in every one of them he has been unhorsed.

Some one, it appears, has been heard to utter a word of commendation for the street railway company. Surely this is something without parallel in the annals of criticism. Next thing we know some one will be saying kind things of the fire brigade, which under Chief Davis has become one of the very best, both in personnel and equipment, on the continent.

They managed elections in a very different manner fifty years ago, according to Colonial reminiscences. In Nanaimo constituency half a century back there were two candidates for the legislature. One received five votes and the other three. Now if a Price had been managing that contest what would have happened to the three?

The Times is chided for not accepting the word of Premier McBride in regard to his mission to British. Well the premier once before made a costly trip at the expense of the people of the province upon business which was ostensibly public, and came back with a "handle to his name."

While there is life there is hope. The quick in Chicago have rebelled against the funeral trust—and the high cost of dying is to be reduced. How is this revolution to be brought about? By the substitution of motor busses for the trust-owned funeral cars.

All eyes except the right ones appear to be upon this promised land. British Columbia is threatened with an invasion of thousands of Hindus. The situation is serious with a government in power at Ottawa whose leader has about as much backbone as a jelly fish.

There can be no doubt about it, from a spectacular point of view, the last day but one of the carnival was an unqualified success.

Many Changes in the Style and Finish of Women's Costumes and Coats for Fall Wear

VISIT to the department will prove of greater interest than anything that can be said here about the beautiful models that Dame Fashion has presented for the Fall and Winter. It is impossible to give a word picture that will do justice to the many new and novel features that are so prominent in the new season's models; then the pleasing colors cannot be reproduced here.

Tailored Costumes

The strictly man-tailored Costumes are proving more popular than ever so far this season. They come in high-grade Serges, Bedford Cords, Fancy Worsteds and Suitings, also various new materials that have a novel and pleasing appearance. One of the leading features is the longer coat which is finished square or cutaway. All are lined with the best of Skinner satin and every line of the garments show good taste and skillful tailoring.

Pleasing Effects in Novelty Costumes

The cutaway style continues to be very pronounced in this line of costumes and another strong feature is the longer coats.

The materials are unusually handsome and include silk brocades, plain and fancy Eponges, Velours, Two-tone Coteles and Bedford Cords. The trimmings on collars, revers and cuffs are of velvet, plushes and brocades, also braids and fancy buttons.

The skirts are made in several different styles and from the great variety that is now being shown, it should be an easy matter to find just the style of costume that will give you the most pleasure and satisfaction throughout the season.

Fall Coats That Are Distinctive in Style and Materials

The styles differ so from the late season and there are so many interesting features that there is nothing like paying a visit to the department and taking note of the many new ideas that have been expressed by the fashion artists.

The three-quarter and seven-eighth lengths are the most popular but the woman who prefers a full-length style will find that she has been well provided for.

To a considerable degree the modified cutaway effects are favored, though many straight-cut coats are to be found in the lines shown.

Much attention has been given to the neck finish, almost invariably the collars are so arranged that they can be fastened high up for protection of the neck in cold weather, or can be worn open to form revers.

The materials are very handsome and include many new fabrics—Ourl Cloths, Rough Mixtures, Eponges, etc.

Very little trimmings are used and the collars are chiefly of fur, plush or fancy velvets. The buttons have been selected with great care and frequently add to the effectiveness of a garment. In most cases they are in the new, bright shades.

See window displays for samples.

Beautiful Curtains and Draperies

MARKED AT QUICK-SELLING PRICES FOR MONDAY

NOW is the time to buy the materials that will make the home more attractive and comfortable. Why wait till the prices go back to the higher and normal mark and get no better materials? The showing of the goods in the windows will be sufficient to convince you that the lines quoted below are great bargains in every sense of the word. Many other equally good values are to be had but space will not permit a full description here.

Visit the department and make your choice while there is the opportunity to make a saving.

NOTTINGHAM LACE CURTAINS—There are 300 pairs in this lot, and they are a very fine quality. They represent various values that have been selling for a much higher price—in fact nearly double the price we are asking for them on Monday. They are 56 inches wide and 3 yards long, finished with lock-stitch edges. The patterns are artistic in design and make a very serviceable curtain. Both white and ecru are to be had and the special sale price for Monday, per pair .....$1.35

MADRAS MUSLINS—About 500 yards in this lot, and an extra good quality; 45 and 50 ins. wide and all reversible. Some finished with plain edges, others with scalloped edges, and your choice from white or ivory. Suitable for any style of decoration. Special sale price, per yard, Monday .....45¢

NOTTINGHAM NETS, 45 and 50 ins. wide. About 300 yards in the lot. A good range of patterns to select from, both in large, bold effects and also in the fine, dainty designs. August Sale price, per yard .....35¢

BUNGALOW SCRIMS—About 300 yards in the lot. Made in a good quality in very handsome designs. Some have combination colorings, others have plain centres and band borders. Special sale price, per yard .....29¢

Special Values in Parlor Furniture

THESE special lines are to be seen in the department on second floor and we are confident that the prices will be a pleasant surprise to you. They are chiefly in the three-piece style and as they come in a great variety of different woods, finishes and coverings you are sure of finding one here that will meet with your requirements. By making your choice now you get the benefit of lowered prices, and we guarantee that the goods will give you entire satisfaction. See them and be convinced that the quality is much higher than you would expect for the price.

WILL DISCUSS COAST ROAD AT VANCOUVER

Pacific Highway Association Meets on Monday; What Has Been Done

Dealing with the Pacific Highway Association meeting which begins on Monday in Vancouver, J. W. Dowling, in the current issue of the Western Canadian Motorist, says in part: "The object of the association is rapidly being realized and to-day except for two short breaks, both of which we are sorry to say in our own territory, the road now stretches continuously from a point a few miles north of Hazelton in Northern British Columbia, and consequently some fifty miles further north than the extreme southern end of Alaska, to the little town of Yuma in Arizona. During the winter months much of this road is unfortunately impassable, a condition which, with intelligent co-operation between the various communities, aided by judicious government pressure, will soon become ancient history. The Pacific Highway Association is endeavoring to hasten this desirable consummation."

Officers Are Capable. "The association has always been fortunate in its officers, the first and still continuing president is His Honor Judge Jas. T. Ronald, of the Superior court of the state of Washington, and the senior vice-presidents for British Columbia are our well known friends, A. E. Todd, of Victoria, and F. R. McD. Russell, one of Vancouver's leading legal luminaries. Other Can-ing the highway route through the various municipalities.

Better Than Expected.

"The truly wonderful progress which has been made is really extraordinary and is far beyond the expectations held by anyone in 1910. At that time the most sanguine hope of the executive was that by 1912 there might be a fairly good road between San Diego and Vancouver. It was soon realized that by the exposition year there would be no doubt about the road between Hazelton and Mexico City, and this success has justified the artist's flight of fancy in depicting upon the badge of the association a highway from the Arctic to the Antarctic. Unfortunately the long drawn out hostilities in Mexico have up to the present prevented the securing of any very definite results there and for the time being all effort to arouse interest in that benighted country has ceased. British Columbia will benefit as the association is devoting its energies to secure the betterment of the Northern British Columbia roads up to and beyond Hazelton."

Thirty-Five Counties.

"There are thirty-five counties alone on the route of the highway in the States, and the magnitude of the task of getting so many conflicting interests into line can be readily conceived. Bills were introduced in the various legislatures providing for the construction of through roads, but success was only achieved in California. Washington defeated the motion and Oregon gave it the most severe setback, but the association is doggedly sticking to its plans, and the bills are to be re-introduced in due course. California is benefitting by her support and the work there is proceeding very fast; hundreds of miles are being permanently hard-paved while through the mountains oiled gravel and macadam are the standard construction. The people of Washington have realized the error and are taking every step possible to remedy the blunder of their

and distributive industries as the extension of the all-the-year good road, and the development of mechanical traction which is as yet still in its infancy.

"The problem of self-propelled road vehicles is not a question of pleasure or rich men's playthings, but lies at the bottom of the whole economic basis of present day living, and back of it all rests the condition of the road."

Prominent speakers, including Norman B. Abrams, of Seattle; Samuel Hill, R. H. Thomson, former city engineer, Gov. West, of Oregon, and a great many British Columbia officials are on the formal programme.

There are matters of considerable importance to come up, before the convention and a large attendance of northwest motorists is particularly desired.

TRAVELS FAR WITH OIL

Los Angeles County Road Commissioners Use Truck for New Purpose.

To spread oil on roads for a distance of twenty miles or more from the starting point and to spread it at a heat of 200 degrees or more would seem to be an extremely difficult undertaking, requiring a lot of apparatus and a lot of men. But by the ingenious use of a five-ton truck the road commissioners of Los Angeles county accomplish it with one man and one piece of mechanism.

The truck is fitted with a 1,000-gallon oil tank, and this tank is covered with a coating of asbestos two inches thick to retain heat. Oil is run into the tank 350 degrees Fahrenheit. Thanks to the asbestos protection and the speed the truck can make, it is possible to make a trip of thirty-five or forty miles before the oil gets too cold for use.

Air pressure of sixty pounds to the square inch is maintained inside the tank by an air compressor operated by the same mechanism used to actuate a dumping body for sand and gravel. Heat from the motor exhaust is used to keep the oil spreader warm so that the stuff will not thicken and clog up there. The truck travels fifty miles a day, and the driver says that in 2,000 miles only two involuntary stops were necessary on the road—both caused by dirty gasoline stopping up the fuel line.

DURING THE NIGHT.

When draining the oil from a crankcase before cleaning it out with kerosene and refilling with new oil, it is well to remember that oil flows most rapidly when warm. Consequently the draining operation should be performed just after the car has come in from a run and the heat has thinned the oil out. In this case it is a good plan to open the drain cocks on putting the car away for the night, and leave them open until morning, in order to give plenty of time for all the oil that has become splattered over the inside of the motor to run down the sides and out of the cocks. Thorough draining in this fashion may also be helped if the motor and radiator is covered with a blanket, in order to keep the heat in as long as possible.

MAY INVADE TORONTO.

Having developed into a practical transportation monopoly in London, the London General Omnibus Company is casting its eyes toward Canada for further conquests. Negotiations are under way with the city council of Toronto with a view to introducing a bus service in that city. A flat rate of 5 cents for any distance is proposed.

Benefit of Roads.

"The benefit of such roads in every locality to the farmer, settler, city people, real estate agents and others is obvious, but attention may rightfully be drawn to the benefit to be derived from one source alone, namely, the tourist traffic.

"It is not unreasonable to expect 10,000 foreign motors to tour the highway in 1915. Everyone of these motorists will be a possible investor and the majority of them able and willing to grasp an investment opportunity, which appeals to their judgment. There is no reason to fear that the greatest benefit will not accrue from the construction of this mighty road, and it will be a source of pleasure and profit to all the towns and cities on its route.

Costs Less.

"It has been proved that to haul produce over dirt roads in average poor condition costs 25c. per mile, per ton, while to haul the same over hard roads in self-propelled vehicles costs 4c. per mile. The saving is obvious, and the time is not so far distant when the road systems of this continent will be planned with this object in view, and will equal those of Europe, and this time cannot come too quickly for any of us. There is no factor in the present situation that can do as much to bring about the needed readjustment of our whole range of productive

A. E. TODD.

VICTORIAN TO SPEAK AT BIG CONVENTION

A. E. Todd Will Take Prominent Share in Pacific Highway Association Meeting

Among the Victorians who are to take prominent parts in the deliberations of the Pacific Highway Association, which holds its annual convention this year at Vancouver next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, is A. E. Todd, who is island vice-president. On Monday afternoon Mr. Todd is to address the assembled delegates. That will be his formal part in the proceedings, but it is expected he will be heard also during some of the periods assigned for discussion.

Delegates are expected from many points along the Canadian and United States Pacific coasts, and it is fully anticipated that the convention will be the most successful of the several annual gatherings yet held. The officers look for the ever-increasing length of the great highway which has been completed, to act as a spur to the efforts of the delegates.

The programme is as follows:

Monday Morning. Opening of the convention by the Rt. Rev. the Bishop of New Westminster. Address of welcome to the delegates from His Worship Mayor Baxter of the city of Vancouver.

Address of welcome from the president of the Vancouver Automobile Club, S. Gintzburger.

Short reply to welcome from visiting governors of the United States of America, and presidents of automobile associations.

Address from president of the Pacific Highway Association, Judge J. T. Ronald, supreme court of Washington.

Afternoon Session.

Appointment of committees. Report of the executive officer of the Pacific Highway Association, Major H. L. Bowlby, of Portland.

Address from Alfred Buckley, M. A., of Vancouver; subject, "The Broad Highway."

Address from the president of the National Highway Association, L. P.

McCalla, M. D. of Boise, Idaho; subject, "National Highways." Address from the island vice-president, P. H. A. A. E. Todd, of Victoria. Address from the president of the Canadian Highway Association, W. J. Kerr, of New Westminster. Address from Norman B. Abrams; subject, "The Pacific Highway as an Asset."

Evening Session.

Illustrated lantern lecture by the president of the American Road Builders' Association, S. Hill; subject, "Roadways of Two Continents."

Illustrated lantern lecture by the commissioner of Rainier National park; subject, "Some Recent Road Construction. A Trip to Rainier National Park."

Address from the Oregon vice-president of the P. H. A., Frank B. Riley, of Portland.

Tuesday Morning.

Report from the secretary of the P. H. A., F. M. Fretwell, of Seattle. New and unfinished business.

Short talks from vice-presidents of the P. H. A.

Afternoon Session.

Automobile drive around Vancouver, Stanley park, and to the residence of S. Gintzburger, who is entertaining a garden party. Cars will assemble on Georgia street, west of Howe street, at 2.30 p. m. Owners decorate if possible.

Evening Session.

Open-awaits reply from the deputy minister of public works, W. W. Foster.

Wednesday Morning.

Reports from the committees, election of officers, and unfinished business.

Afternoon Session.

Excursion to Wigwam Inn, Indian river, by S. S. "Alhuvia," tea to be served in the grounds.

DRIVING IN SAND.

Experienced Pathfinder Tells How to Overcome the Difficulties.

There is quite a knack in driving successfully through sand and clay, according to that veteran pathfinder, Dr. Charles G. Percival, who took a car 55,000 miles and from Mexico to the Arctic circle. He says: "In heavy sand deflate the tires about one-third and if the sand will not be subdued, then put on your chains, but be sure and pump the tires up after passing through the sand.

"In soft mud, clay and the like, do not deflate the tires, but put on your chains. If it is bad, do not continue to spin the driving wheel, which only makes the hole larger and lets the car down to the axle or differential. Don't fill up the hole with stones and other rubbish. Jack up the car on a flat board with a solid stone or log foundation beneath and then fill in the hole you have made with anything solid, but level with the board and drive off on it. A great deal of trouble can be avoided by keeping to the centre of the road as much as possible."

FOR THE FARMERS.

The automobile show to be held in connection with Cleveland's summer fair this year will appeal particularly to farmers, as arrangements are being made by the show promoters to provide especially large accommodations for demonstrators with machines adaptable to farm use. As roads will be in much better condition than in winter, when Cleveland's annual show is held, it is expected farmers will attend the mid-summer exhibition in large numbers and that they will easily be interested in farm motor appliances.

SHOWS THE CAUSE

Way in Which Motor Stops Indicates Nature of Trouble to Be Remedied.

The way the motor stops furnishes to the accustomed ear an accurate indication of the source of trouble. When the stop comes suddenly, and resembles that when the switch is opened, the trouble is in the ignition system, and probably consists of a short circuit or a loose connection. Missing in one cylinder may also be caused by the same trouble, and by dirty spark plugs. If the cylinder shows a tendency to puff a little, but not give full power, it is a sign that the ignition is all right, but that the trouble is with the valves, one of which is probably sticking.

If the engine slows down a little before stopping, look for a stoppage in the gasoline line. A dry bearing or cylinder, from lack of lubrication or overheating, will also cause somewhat the same sort of stop so far as the time element goes. The difference will be that in the one case the power will be felt to fall, while in the other the motor will labor perceptibly. In any case, when the motor has stopped, the first thing to be done in hunting the cause is to consider carefully how the motor acted just before the stop. This is the best clue to the cause.

VALUES HAVE FALLEN.

Average Price of Export Automobiles in United States $980 in 1912.

The fall in export price of automobiles is an especially striking feature of the United States Bureau of Statistics figures. They show an average valuation for all automobiles exported in 1909 of $1,800 each, and in 1912 of $980, the average export price in 1912 being thus but a little more than one-half that of 1909. This remarkable fall in the average valuation of the automobiles exported is due in part to a general reduction in the selling price of automobiles during the period in question, a disposition on

RUSSIA'S BANKERS AIDING AUTO TRADE

Progressive Institutions Have Established Automobile Departments to Help Business

It is generally known by the American automobile manufacturers that foreign automobile builders are doing everything in their power to stop the invasion of the American car. This feeling, however, is confined almost entirely to the automobile manufacturers of Europe.

The Russian bankers appreciate the fact that they are losing a large volume of business through this constant fight to keep out the American cars. Business that would have amounted to many thousands of dollars has in this way been lost to the Russian banks.

To overcome the difficulty several of the most progressive banks of Russia have inaugurated automobile departments. It is their intention to handle the automobile business in the same manner that they have successfully handled the implement business. The large banks of Russia are represented throughout the entire empire by branch houses. Through these branch houses they deal with the automobile dealer direct, disregarding the manufacturer. Practically all the retail automobile business in Europe is done on credit. The small retail dealer's funds are limited. Backed by a wealthy bank, he would be placed in a better position to handle the sale of automobiles, and with the backing of a wealthy bank he would be placed in a position to do an extensive credit business. In this manner the "automobile business" in Russia is being established on a firmer basis, and foreign business for the American manufacturer looks very promising.

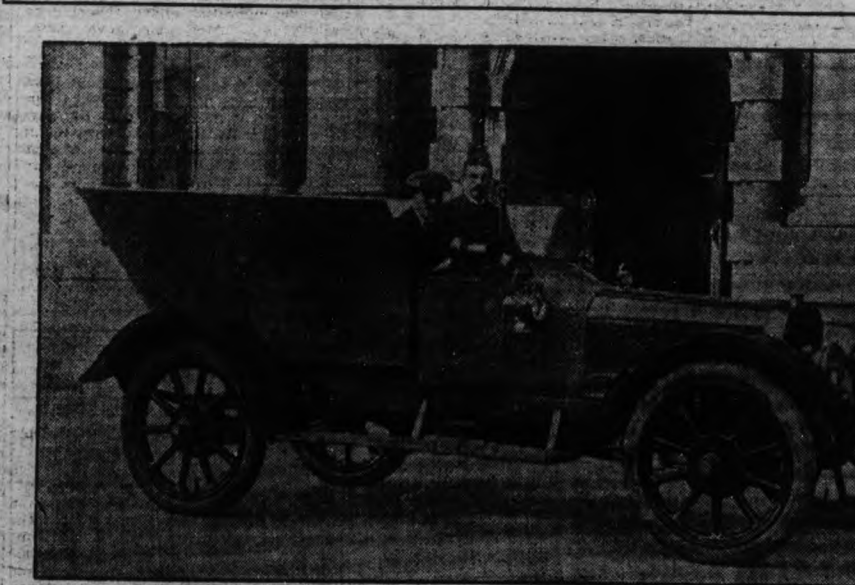

General Sir R. S. Baden-Powell, who is shown with Prince Arthur of Connaught leaving Perry Hill Park, Birmingham, after inspecting the Boy Scouts, was recently presented with a car by the great organization which he has fathered in England as elsewhere throughout the world. At the wheel of the car shown above is Mr. James Roland Hewitt, who holds a commission in the Territorial forces.

adrian officers of the association are Alfred Thompson, of Dawson, P. N. Dewar, of Port George, Frank McKinnon, of Hazelton, and W. J. Kerr, of New Westminster, all apostles of good roads, enlightenment and progress. The honorable secretaryship is ably filled by Frank Fretwell, of Seattle, and the principal executive officer, on whom the bulk of the work falls, is Henry L. Bowlby, one of Portland's most distinguished citizens. He was recently appointed highway commissioner for the state of Oregon, and is obviously the right man in the right place.

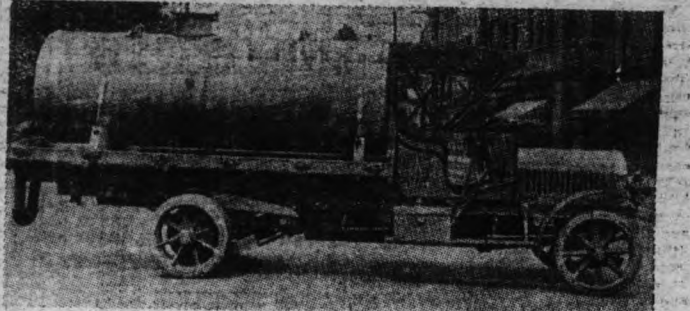

"The association makes it its business to hurry the construction and to encourage and stimulate the sections that are inclined to lag behind and they are educating the voting power all along the line to demand the support of their representatives. A strong publicity campaign has taken place throughout the continent with the result that to-day the term "Pacific Highway" stands for a tangible ideal, conveys a definite impression to the majority of people on the Pacific coast from Alaska to Mexico, and is equally well understood in all parts of the world, and has received official recognition in thousands of government maps and reports. Good evidence of the work done by the Pacific Highway Association is given when it can be simply said that the distance between Tia Juana in Mexico and Vancouver, has been shortened to 1853 miles, that is 156 miles less than it was in 1910, and that this distance during the summer of 1912 could be covered easier in 17 days than it could be covered in 17 days in 1910. The three chief reasons for this shortening of distance and time are, firstly, road improvements, secondly the splendid guide posts which the Pacific Highway Association have erected at every turn and crossing between Vancouver and Redding, California; and thirdly, the numerous improvements in re-select-

AUTOMOBILE AND BOAT IN ONE

Probably the first car ever built which will transport itself across water. Its field of operation will be in Africa, where it will work between Cape and Cairo, carrying a survey and scientific research expedition under the British government. The curiously-shaped body is capable of being used as a pontoon for carrying the chassis, engine and chassis across rivers, many of which the car will encounter in its work. The equipment of the unique machine includes a searchlight to illuminate the forests as the party travels through them and provision for a very large supply of petrol, the character of the country requiring an ample store.

Several motor trucks have appeared on the Coast lately carrying huge water tanks. In some the tank can be removed and the truck thereby rendered useful for all kinds of freight. There is one of these in Victoria now.

JAPAN USES CARS.

Automobiles on the Increase in Oriental Land; Make Parts at Home.

Improved roads and bridges have made Japan an excellent automobile country, and the importance of cars continues to increase, says Thomas Sammons, consul general for the States at Yokohama. "A large number of foreigners in Japan buy motor cars, the nationality of the purchaser determining, as a rule, the make of the car," he declares.

"A considerable number of the more wealthy Japanese are also making use of automobiles, and this, together with the tourist trade, stimulates this promising industry," until the Japanese propose to enter the manufacturing business themselves. They already make various parts of cars. Of a total value of $445,406 placed on automobiles and parts thereof imported into Japan during 1912, the United States contributed over 50 per cent, the returns by countries being: United States, $251,677; Great Britain $109,911; Germany, $31,093; others, $53,724.

QUESTIONS.

At what age should human beings be permitted to run automobiles along public thoroughfares?

What proportion of the accidents which happen are due to youthful chauffeurs?

Legally a young man is a minor up to the age of twenty-one. If he is not deemed by the state to have judgment enough before that age to decide about who shall govern him, why should he be permitted to run an automobile? And is not the same thing true—only more so—of women as of men?—Life.

SULTAN MAY HAVE CAR.

The future of American automobiles in Aden, Arabia, depends in a large measure upon the sultan of Aden, a powerful Arab chieftain. He has been coming interested in American machines, according to Walter H. Schulz, consul for the United States at Aden, and has inquired regarding them at the American consulate. If he purchases a car it is likely that other wealthy Arabs will follow his example.

TAKE COAL IN TRUCK.

The high cost of transportation in the retail coal trade has prompted a company at Waterbury, Conn., to adopt the tractor method of delivery in that town. The results are entirely satisfactory, the increased efficiency due to lower the transportation cost and the greater promptness of delivery obtained being very marked. This firm uses a tractor in connection with three detachable body trailers of seven tons capacity each. These trailers are of the two-wheeled type and are provided with a pair of hinged jacks at the forward end which support the body when the tractor is withdrawn.

NO MOTORS THERE.

Prince Edward Island is the only province of Canada which prohibits the use of motor vehicles on its highways and public places. This was thought necessary in the public interest and for the safety of the travelling public. The penalty for breaking this law is $500 or six months in jail. Public highway, in the act, includes any highway, public street, square, alley, lane, park, or public place.

AMATEUR BODIES MAY BREAK MORE TROUBLE FOR THE A. A. U.

Boxing Scandal at Toronto Re-opened by Eastern Authorities; Coast Outlook

Telegraphic reports from the east indicate that another battle between rival amateur athletic bodies is on tap. A meeting will be held in Montreal on Monday night at which different matters now in dispute will be brought to the fore and the indications are that a break will come and that the eastern and western delegates will decide to continue single-handed. This trouble has been brewing for some time but has only now come to a head. The dispute started with the awarding of the boxing championships to Toronto when Vancouver and Montreal fairly pleaded for the tournament. Toronto has been the scene of the boxing championships for so long that the officials probably decided that it would be unwise to change the old ring.

Conditions on the coast are not as settled as they might be. At the present the A. A. U. controls lacrosse, track and field and baseball, but in other sports they are not recognized. For instance, only last Monday at the Victoria Canoe Club the entry of the James Bay Athletic Club swimming team was refused for the simple reason that their application for affiliation with the Amateur Swimming Association had not been passed by the swimming governors. This caused a big row and the outcome was the disaffiliation of the Amateur Athletic Union until such time as the aquatic body affiliates with the A. A. U. Apparently

SHAKE-UP COMING IN BALL LEAGUES

If a lot of real inside news isn't let out within the next few months, the 1914 season will witness a brand new deal in the circuits of the big minor leagues.

According to this information, the International League and the American Association will not only be permitted, but will be urged to place clubs in the cities that now have representation in only one of the majors. These cities are Washington, Cleveland, Detroit, Cincinnati, Pittsburgh and Brooklyn. By the change in circuits, all the larger cities of the east and middle west would be given continuous baseball, thus shutting out the possibility of a successful "outlaw" invasion.

Brooklyn and Washington, and possibly Pittsburgh, will get International League clubs if this project is carried out, while the American Association will invade Cleveland, Detroit and Cincinnati. Whether the International or the big Association will get the Smoky City is still up in the air.

Jersey City and Providence are the clubs likely to be dropped from the International, if this scheme goes through. In the American Association the clubs to be left by the way-side would most probably be Toledo, Columbus, Kansas City and Louisville.

Not much opposition is expected from Jersey City or Providence, as both clubs have been losing money. In the west, however, there will be one grand fight against the proposed scheme. It is said that there will be a large-sized row if any attempt is made to transfer the franchises of any of the cities.

The big stumbling block is the fear that the displaced cities in the west would refuse consideration in the shape of clubs in a reorganized western league, and would organize an outlaw circuit.

If Kansas City will be good and quietly subside into the Western League, and Louisville will be content with a berth in the Southern or Western, the promoters of the reorganization will take a chance with Columbus and Toledo. Those are hushy "ifs," however, and it is difficult to imagine the big cities on the Ohio and the Kaw accepting any such solution of the problem.

But that is the dope now being considered by the "inner circle" of the "baseball trust," and they may be able to pull it off.

$68,350 FROM CUP TIES.

The balance sheet of the Sunderland Football club just issued is a record-breaker. It shows that the income was easily the highest in the history of the club. The receipts amounted to $116,090, the principal item being $68,350 from the English cup competition, from which $17,000 was paid to visiting teams, leaving a profit of $49,420.

The home league matches realized $50,000 and the reserves' matches $6,000. Under the head of match expenditure $45,000 was expended, and it included $24,000 for players' wages, the working expenditure including $12,000 for transfers. The total expenditure was $5,000, leaving a profit on the year's working of $49,000. The assets of the club are estimated at $80,000 and liabilities $8,000, this being the share capital. The directors propose to pay a dividend of 6 per cent, this being only the second occasion on which the club has been in a position to pay a dividend.

Boxing Scandal at Toronto Re-opened by Eastern Authorities; Coast Outlook

The coast has not yet been informed of the agreement reached in the east with regard to the exchange of cards by these bodies a thing that is now being done in the east.

That Rugby Case. Rugby football is controlled on the coast by the English Rugby Union and a queer ruling was handed out by this body last fall when Dal Thomas, a prominent player, was refused permission to play with the Victoria Rugby fifteen against the Australians, despite the fact that he held a Canadian Amateur card. The English Union ruled that he was ineligible because he had played Northern Union Rugby and was therefore under the ban. An appeal to the A. A. U. did not have any effect and Thomas has not been able to play Rugby since, though he is free to participate in all other amateur sports. The oarsmen are under the control of the Northern Pacific Association of Amateur Oarsmen, who handle all their own affairs.

McKay Also Barred. British Columbia sportsmen are not very much in sympathy with the manner in which they handle the championships in the east and unless there is a good representation of eastern athletes at the coming championships which will be held in Vancouver on September 6, the coast will probably continue to handle its own affairs. Another subject for argument is the fact that Scotty McKay, a Victoria boxer, was refused entry to compete in the championships, and was refused entry. The fact that he held an amateur card, signed by the Victoria branch of the A. A. U., carried no weight, and considerable correspondence was exchanged on the subject.

Coach Holway, of the Olympic Athletic Club, of San Francisco, announces that George Horne, Ralph Rose, Ted Nelson and D. Beeson, will be the "Frisco" representatives at the Canadian championships to be held next month.

BEES TAKE FIFTH IN EXCITING PLAY

One of Best Games of Season Seen by 2,000 People Yesterday

Before a crowd of 2,000 fans, the Bees yesterday administered defeat to Seattle for the fifth time this week. Kantiheuer occupied the mound for the Bees, while Raymond sent in his star slasher, Gipe, to break the Bees' winning streak. Inability to hit Kantiheuer in the pinches, backed up by brilliant fielding of his team-mates, accounted for the local's victory. Gipe pitched fine ball, as good as Kantiheuer in fact, but he was found for hits in the pinches, while the local boy was invincible in these stages.

On two occasions Seattle batters secured triples, but were stranded on third base. Brown the first man up in one innings singled, but the next three batters could not deliver a hit to score him. In the fourth innings Seattle scored their only run of the game after Jackson had singled. Straff followed with a triple, scoring him. The next batters either batted feeble grounders or popped up, so Leo was stranded both in the field and at bat for the Bees, his terrific drives bringing in two runs, while Delmas' home run in the second accounted for the other tally.

Crab Raymond was banished from the game in the fifth inning for arguing with Umpire Ostle. After Shaw had fanned in this inning, Shaw rolled the ball towards the pitcher's box and Shaw started for first, but was called out.

Kantiheuer weakened as the game progressed. In the eighth, with a man on second and a runner on third, a fast double spoiled Seattle's chances. Also in the ninth he was in danger, with two men on the bases and none out. Fullerton attempted to sacrifice. The ball was a low fly and Meek came in on the run from first, scooping the ball with one hand and doubling Killian at second, thus winning the most exciting game of the year.

President Wastel announces that he has exchanged pitcher Boatman along with $500 for pitcher Bert Fitcher to the North Yakima club. The new pitcher will join the club at Tacoma next week.

McCARTY'S ESTATE.

Springfield, Mo., Aug. 9.—An expense account of more than $4,000 representing the cost of the last month of the life of Luther McCarty, late pugilist, was approved here yesterday by Otto Lippman, administrator of the estate. The account was filed by Billy McCarty, manager of the prize-fighter, to show how McCarty's receipts from the fatal fight at Calgary, Alberta, were spent.

Their share amounted to $4,232.00. All but $24 of this was spent between April 28, when they left New York to begin the trip to Calgary, and May 28, when McCarty was buried in Ohio.

DECISION WAS UNPOPULAR.

San Francisco, Aug. 9.—"Bob" McAllister and Sadler Petrosky, middleweights, fought twenty rounds to a draw last night. The decision was a surprise to the crowd. Sporting writers present were unanimous in conceding fifteen rounds to McAllister. The fight was dreary throughout.

GOES TO MONTREAL PATRICK MAY CONFER

Montreal, Aug. 9.—Frank Patrick, who formerly played hockey in the east with McGill, Victoria, Wanderers and Renfrew and who later established the Pacific Coast Hockey Association and built rinks at Vancouver, Victoria and New Westminster, is expected in Montreal this week.

According to a letter received from the former eastern star, he is undergoing an operation and treatment in New York for a growth in his right eye which followed an injury received in a hockey game at Vancouver a year ago. Patrick has on hand the building and equipping of a winter sports section for the San Francisco Exhibition of 1915 and is in the East buying machinery.

While in the east it is expected that the subject of a hockey commission will come up again. It is interesting to note in passing that President Lichtenstein of the Montreal Baseball Club and Wanderer Hockey Club has gone to New York ostensibly on a pleasure trip during which he intended to look at some of the major league ball players. It is quite possible, however, that an interview between the western and eastern hockey magnates may take place in New York.

BOWLING TOURNAMENT ATTRACTIVE FEATURE

Reminiscent of an historical game of bowls on Plymouth Hoe in the summer of 1583, the Victoria Bowling Club played in Elizabethan costume yesterday afternoon at Beacon Hill. The party represented the president, John A. Turner, appeared as Sir John Hawkins, B. H. John as Sir Francis Drake, Peter Turner as Sir Walter Raleigh, and W. J. Dart as Lord Howard of Effingham.

This afternoon the finals of the carnival series were set:

Final: British Columbians versus Highland Scots. British Columbians—P. Turner (skip), W. Walker, C. Harris and B. H. John. Highland Scots—W. Oliphant (skip), J. Anderson, A. Stewart and W. Wood.

Consolation: Irish versus Western Canadians. Irish—H. Molony (skip), P. Dundas, W. Carroll and W. D. Davidson. Western Canadians—F. Robertson (skip), H. Webster, F. R. Craig, Gordon and Grant.

LIPTON CUP WON

BY SPIRIT I.

Vancouver Yacht Takes It Easily in Race Which Brings Out Twelve Entries

Spirit I. won the Lipton cup yesterday afternoon in a light wind from eleven other entries in the yacht race. She was sailed by her owner, Clifford Cao, who came over from Vancouver in the morning for that purpose.

The course was the old Victoria one, which measures about thirteen sea miles, and this was dotted with white-winged craft, the beautiful weather tempting everyone who had a yacht or motor boat to turn out. The finish was off the site of the breakwater at Ogden Point, and was witnessed by many hundreds of people who watched the race from Dallas road.

In the breezes that prevailed throughout the Spirit I. easily led the way and gained on the other contestants all the way, coming in three-quarters of an hour ahead of the next four yachts. These, again, were a long way in advance of the remaining boats.

Mr. Resney's Myth came in second, Mr. MacDonald's Onoma third, Mr. Connelly's Gwendolyn fourth, and Mr. Larsen's Orions fifth. The other entries in the race were: Nattie, Bonita, Madeleine, Truant, Allie, Clyde and Ivanhoe.

The winner is one of the fleetest yachts in the Vancouver club, but she is closely pressed by the Alexandra and the Spirit II, which latter has never yet been able to beat her, although built by Ted Geary, of Seattle, with last object. She is a sloop yacht with an international rating of 29 feet and sets 1,100 feet of canvas. A volunteer crew of six sailed her, Cao and his brother in racing the boat.

Secret of Mysterious Power Revealed at Last

How Prominent People Have Gained Wealth and Popularity

Famous Hypnotist Perfects Simple Method that Enables Anyone to Control Thoughts and Acts of Others, Cure Disease and Habits Without Drugs, and Read the Secret Desires of People Though Thousands of Miles Away

Wonderful Book Describing This Strange Force and a Character Delineation Post Free to All Who Write at Once

The National Institute of Sciences has appropriated $25,000 toward a fund for the free distribution of Prof. Knowles' new book, "The Key to the Development of the Inner Forces." The book lays bare many astounding facts concerning the psychic forces of Eastern Yogis and explains a wonderful system for the development of Personal Magnetism, Hypnotic and Telepathic Powers, and the curing of diseases and habits without drugs. The subject of practical character reading is also extensively dealt with, and the author describes a simple method of accurately reading the secret thoughts in the minds of others though thousands of miles away. The almost endless stream of letters requesting copies of the book and character delineations in duplicate clearly show the universal interest in Psychological and Occult Sciences.

"Rich and poor alike benefit by the teachings of this new system," says Prof. Knowles, "and the person who wishes to achieve greater success has but to apply the simple rules laid down." That many wealthy and prominent people owe their success to the power of Personal Influence there is not the slightest doubt, but the great mass of people have remained in utter ignorance of these phenomena. The National Institute of Sciences has therefore undertaken the somewhat arduous task of distributing broadcast, without regard for class or creed, the information heretofore possessed by the few. In addition to supplying the books free, each person who writes and sends a stamped address character delineation of from 400 to 500 words as prepared by Prof. Knowles, will receive a copy of Prof. Knowles' book and a Character Delineation, simply copy the following verse in your own handwriting:

"I want power of mind,
Force and strength in my look,
Please read my character,
And send me your book."

Also send your full name and address (state whether Mr., Mrs., or Miss), write plainly and address your letter to: National Institute of Sciences, Dept. 75 D, No. 28 Westminster Bridge-road, London, E.C. 4, Eng. If you wish you may enclose 10 cents (stamps of your own country) to pay postage, etc. Postage on letters to England, 2 cents.

By Robson Black.

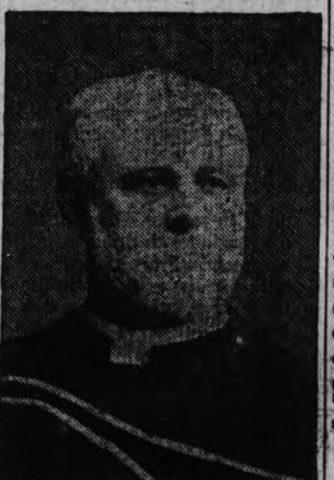

Nova Scotia is the cradle of University presidents just as it is the cradle on its own coast of nearly every other form of special aptitude for administrative office. The records show that the boast has a tolerably good foundation.

When Daniel Miner Gordon left his Halifax church and took up shield and battleaxe as principal of Queen's University, he committed himself to a taxing and meritorious task, the burden of which had delivered George Grant to his grave years before his time. At a period of life when aggression is usually a memory and men settle back into reflection, he undertook to act as teacher, ambassador, business supervisor, agent-general, confessor and lookout man. Those who did not understand said that no mere maritime province preacher could run a university on business lines. Those who knew better said that a minister who had generalised the church's battles on the frontiers of the West, changing his frock for a soldier's coat to take toll of Louis Riel, a minister who had an iron-cored patriotism and personal graces of a very attractive kind, could and would make a principal of unordinary calibre.

Dr. Gordon knew Western Canada before it knew itself. He preached sermons in St. Andrew's Church, Winnipeg, when Winnipeggers reached home by way of Chicago and perused sceptical reports of a company called the C. P. R. running a line round the humps of Lake Superior. He walked over Calgary twenty years before Calgary started to walk over the Dominion, and knew Edmonton when you could salute the whole population by waving a hand at the Hudson Bay store. This gentle-mannered patriarchal figure, rich in years and the joys of fine scholarship and the knowledge of great duties greatly done, is one whose life will be missed if the chapters preceding his official career are given secondary attention. One of these preceding, and indeed continuous, chapters has to do with him as a Canadian of extraordinary patriotism. He waves no flags and sings no songs, but his heart grips hold of Canada like the heart of a lover. On his return from an Australian tour not long ago he met a friend in the rotunda of a Toronto hotel and when he had told him how he admired Australia and New Zealand he cast in this irrepressible reflection: "But isn't it a fine thing, after all, to say you're a Canadian!"

He preaches peace. No public man in the Dominion preaches more kinds of peace, or hits at war with so persuasive blows. Shrinking, neutral-blooded men sometimes preach peace as the voice of their personal blandness and timidity. Hardly that with Principal Gordon. He probably holds not far from Normal Angell that until a revised philosophy of the wastefulness of all wars permeates the skulls of European war lords, Britain should not think of reducing her preparations by a single shilling. Forty or more years ago Dr. Gordon, as a young minister, was becomingly zealous in the cause of civil and international peace. When the call came for British loyalists to match their lives against the crazy rebellion of Riel, Gordon marched as chaplain of the 96th of Winnipeg and passed through a fairly drastic baptism of buckshot and Winchester rim-fires. When he had thus tasted war he went back faithfully and with fuller knowledge to magnify the truths of "seek peace and pursue it."

With Dr. Gordon's Canadianism stalks a vigorous and intelligent Imperialism, the sort of Imperialism that would swell as sweet under any other name, coming down to him as it did through his Pictou birth, his Wink-

ter rough-riding, his world-wide observation, and his calm reading of present day tendencies. The fire of Gordon's Imperialism burns with a clear strong flame—undemonstrative, no doubt—but yet in burns. Dr. Gordon's biggest official battle came when Queen's sought permission of the Presbyterian General Assembly to unite herself from the Church's domination. When the fight got under way the opinion of Queen's best friends stood, roughly, sixty per cent. to forty per cent. in favor of the step. Principal Gordon threshed out the project on the floor of the Assembly at Montreal, but it failed to gain a majority. Then he carried it to the next General Assembly at Vancouver, loaded his artillery with double primings and swept the floor clear of objectors in a speech characterized by remarkable ease, good humor, and earnestness. There never was any doubt about the wisdom of separation from that day down to the passing of the Federal Act.

He is as unlike his predecessor, George M. Grant, as two mental and temperamental creations well could be. There is practically no ground of analogy, certainly no more than between Cecil Rhodes and Speaker Lowther, although these two again offer no sensible similarity to Grant and Gordon. It is just possible that the outspoken and sometimes radical personal attitudes of Grant advertised college as Gordon's curious hatred of personal publicity cannot do. Zealous as Dr. Gordon feels for the welfare of Queen's, he draws the line at even so meagre a "parading" of himself as is involved in a newspaper interview, and has a deep repugnance for the idea of "pushing" a university by making the president a sort of travelling salesman. His conduct bears out these convictions to the last atom.

It has been said that Queen's spirit is so intense that asbestos ceases to be a protection. One product of this loyalty to alma mater has been a hearty affection for Dr. Gordon on the part of the student body and graduates. They like him. They respect and admire him. They boast of him to outsiders, who in turn are not inclined to dispute what seems so generally credited. In his daily programme he labors early and late, teaching classes, attending meetings, preparing addresses and delivering them, handing quantities of semi-official mail that of necessity tumbles in upon any kind-natured college leader. "Has he a hobby, something he works at in his spare moments?" I asked a friend, who of all men knows him best, and he replied: "Queen's University." Devotion to duty and calm indifference to personal applause represent a combination testifying in any man to motives pure as crystal. In Dr.

Gordon's case unselfishness and sterling ideals have not worked out in a whirlwind reputation as orator or publicist or brought him many popular halos. Folks do not call him a wizard. They hardly ascribe him uncanny powers as they like to do with Lloyd George and Sir William Mackenzie. They don't even call him a genius. But they go beyond the twisting of superlatives and strike home with a better tribute.

"Character," they say, in another's words, "character shows itself apart from genius as a special thing. The first point of measurement of any man is that of quality."

"A Most Valuable Food"

At a time when the preparation of artificial foodstuffs is receiving more attention than ever before, and when new forms of easily assimilable fat to take the place of cod liver oil are being frequently brought to the notice of the medical profession, it is desirable that some of the older forms of administering natural fats should not be lost sight of. Among natural fats, butter easily takes first place for nutritive value, and when combined with a suitable soluble carbohydrate, a most valuable food is produced.

The BUTTER SCOTCH which Messrs. Callard & Bower (Duke's Road, Euston Road, W. C.) have prepared for fifty years, is such an article, which has the great advantage of being palatable, so palatable, in fact, that children are inclined to need restraining from excess than any persuing to take it. This BUTTER SCOTCH is stated to contain 11.7 per cent. of fat and 79.3 per cent. of sugar, and the results of an analysis which we have made recently of a specimen substantially confirm these figures; further chemical examination of the fat extracted showed it to be genuine butter fat. This confection can therefore be recommended, not only as a harmless treat, but also as a very useful addition to the diet in suitable cases. In all the Principal Confection Stores in Victoria.

It does not contain poisonous sugar of lead, nitrate of silver or sulphur or any injurious ingredient.

It cures dandruff in two weeks, by killing the dandruff germ.

It promptly stops itching of the scalp.

It makes the hair soft, glossy and luxuriant.

It gives life and beauty to the hair. It is not sticky or greasy.

It is the daintiest perfumed hair tonic made.

It is the best, the most pleasant and invigorating hair dressing made.

Made only in Canada by the R. T. Booth Co., Ltd., Port Erie, Ont.

The price is only 50 cents at drug stores and counters where toilet goods are sold.

D. E. Campbell guarantees it.

FACE COVERED WITH PIMPLES

Spread on Limbs. Red and Inflamed. Became Sores. Had to Tie Hands While He Slept. Well, Thanks to Cuticura Soap and Ointment.

St. Catharines, Quebec—"My child was scarcely two months and a half old when his face and arms became covered with little red pimples which a little later spread on his limbs. The pimples were very red and inflamed. They were like a little red spot which soon became a little larger and raised up. There were four or five together. These pimples caused him to scratch so that we had to tie his hands while he slept. The itching made him suffer so much that he cried part of the night, waking up most of the people in the house. The pimples became sores and were very painful.

"I used without success several remedies which were recommended to me. I then used Cuticura Ointment and Soap, giving him a bath every morning with hot water and Cuticura Soap, and then applied a thin layer of Cuticura Ointment on the parts affected. They gave great relief with the first application. After using one box of Cuticura Ointment and a little more than one cake of Cuticura Soap my child was completely cured. Thanks to the Cuticura Soap and Ointment my baby is perfectly well, and I shall always have them at hand." (Signed) Mrs. N. John, Jan. 4, 1912.

Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment are sold throughout the world. A single set is often sufficient. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address: Post Card, Foster Drug & Chem. Corp., Dept. 87D, Boston, U. S. A.

THE ENGLISH WALKING HAT ADAPTED.

Although unlike at first sight, these hats are alike in the lines of the brim and are similarly worn low on the forehead. The upper sketch shows a hat of white milan straw with a bias band and bow of primrose velvet shaped smoothly over the brim, the edges finished by hand.

The other hat has a brim of straw built on the lines of a derby, only wider. Above this is a smartly draped crown of black satin. The fibre ornament at the side is held by a band of white velvet.

WOMAN SUFFERED TEN YEARS

From Female Ills—Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Belleville, N.S., Canada—"I doctored for ten years for female troubles and did not get well. I read in the paper about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and decided to try it. I write now to tell you that I am cured. You can publish my letter as a testimonial."

—Mrs. SUZANNE BABINE, Belleville, Nova Scotia, Canada.

Another Woman Recovers.

Auburn, N. Y.—"I suffered from nervousness for ten years, and had such organic pains that sometimes I would lie in bed four days at a time, could not eat or sleep and did not want anyone to talk to me or bother me at all. Sometimes I would suffer for seven hours at a time. Different doctors did the best they could for me until four months ago I began giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial and now I am in good health."

—Mrs. WILLIAM H. GILL, No. 15 Pleasant Street, Auburn, New York.

The above are only two of the thousands of grateful letters which are constantly being received by the Pinkham Medicine Company of Lynn, Mass., which show clearly what great things Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound does for those who suffer from women's ills.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (consultation) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

Use It As a Dressing—Banish Dandruff—Stop Falling Hair and Scalp Itch.

PARISIAN SAGE, the delightful and invigorating hair tonic, is a true hair nourisher. It penetrates into the scalp, gets to the roots of the hair, kills the dandruff germs, and supplies the hair with just the kind of nourishment it needs to make it grow abundantly.

Since its introduction into Canada, PARISIAN SAGE has had an immense sale, and here are the reasons:

It does not contain poisonous sugar of lead, nitrate of silver or sulphur or any injurious ingredient.

It cures dandruff in two weeks, by killing the dandruff germ.

It promptly stops itching of the scalp.

It makes the hair soft, glossy and luxuriant.

It gives life and beauty to the hair. It is not sticky or greasy.

It is the daintiest perfumed hair tonic made.

It is the best, the most pleasant and invigorating hair dressing made.

Made only in Canada by the R. T. Booth Co., Ltd., Port Erie, Ont.

The price is only 50 cents at drug stores and counters where toilet goods are sold.

D. E. Campbell guarantees it.

FACE COVERED WITH PIMPLES

Spread on Limbs. Red and Inflamed. Became Sores. Had to Tie Hands While He Slept. Well, Thanks to Cuticura Soap and Ointment.

St. Catharines, Quebec—"My child was scarcely two months and a half old when his face and arms became covered with little red pimples which a little later spread on his limbs. The pimples were very red and inflamed. They were like a little red spot which soon became a little larger and raised up. There were four or five together. These pimples caused him to scratch so that we had to tie his hands while he slept. The itching made him suffer so much that he cried part of the night, waking up most of the people in the house. The pimples became sores and were very painful.

"I used without success several remedies which were recommended to me. I then used Cuticura Ointment and Soap, giving him a bath every morning with hot water and Cuticura Soap, and then applied a thin layer of Cuticura Ointment on the parts affected. They gave great relief with the first application. After using one box of Cuticura Ointment and a little more than one cake of Cuticura Soap my child was completely cured. Thanks to the Cuticura Soap and Ointment my baby is perfectly well, and I shall always have them at hand." (Signed) Mrs. N. John, Jan. 4, 1912.

Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment are sold throughout the world. A single set is often sufficient. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address: Post Card, Foster Drug & Chem. Corp., Dept. 87D, Boston, U. S. A.

THE ENGLISH WALKING HAT ADAPTED.

Although unlike at first sight, these hats are alike in the lines of the brim and are similarly worn low on the forehead. The upper sketch shows a hat of white milan straw with a bias band and bow of primrose velvet shaped smoothly over the brim, the edges finished by hand.

The other hat has a brim of straw built on the lines of a derby, only wider. Above this is a smartly draped crown of black satin. The fibre ornament at the side is held by a band of white velvet.

CANADIAN CELEBRITIES

Mrs. Hayter Reed.

A certain renowned Englishman of taste and culture crossed Canada a few years ago, from Halifax and St. John clear through to Vancouver Island. At the end of the journey, sitting in the famous Empress hotel at Victoria, he asked a question of a Canadian with whom he was talking.

"Tell me," he said, "why is it that I have been in from ten to fifteen hotels, all owned by the one big railway company and scattered between here and the Atlantic, and in each of them I am made aware—in some subtle way—of the color-schemes and the fittings of all this hotel system? If it is a man, he must be in some respects a genius."

"He is a man," replied the Canadian, "but it is not his personality that marks these hotels. It is a woman."

"A woman? Who?"

"Mrs. Hayter Reed, of Montreal."

"But I met her—she is not employed by the C. P. R., is she?"

"Indirectly, yes, she is. It is her personality you find expressed in the selection and the arrangement of all the furnishings of these hotels."

"A professional—or decorator?"

"No. Just a woman."

"A clever woman, I say."

"Very."

And what the visitor had said was true. From coast to coast stretch a series of great hotels, not necessarily the most costly or the most elaborate in design, but certainly the most homelike of any on the American continent. Architects designed them. Clever men picked out the sites. Skilled workmen raised the structures, and experienced men organized the services. But a woman furnished them—Mrs. Hayter Reed, of Montreal.

Years ago, when the C. P. R. had not as many hotels as it now has, and when it knew less about the business than now, one of its officials, returning from a trip to the coast, exclaimed privately against the hotel service.

"We haven't fallen down on it," he said, "but we've got to do better. Our hotels are cold, cheerless and uninviting. There's no restfulness in one of them. They are perfect and precise, but stiff. There's something wrong. It should be changed."

It was not changed until other officials had made the same report. From a rumor the thing became a conviction. Decorating experts were consulted. Carpet makers, rug sellers, drapers from London and upholsterers from Paris. Each was perfect in his own line. Each knew what would be best in his own line, but there was no one harmonizing brain to take all the products and blend them into a good effect.

There was none until the C. P. R. consulted Mrs. Hayter Reed, wife of one of its officials and a society woman in Montreal. Mrs. Reed has a remarkably comfortable home, not so much expensive as well chosen in itself and in its fittings. Conviction grew in the minds of the officials and they offered Mrs. Reed one hotel to decorate.

If she would, she did, and they promptly gave her full charge of all such matters and a salary which is said to run anywhere between five and ten thousand dollars a year. The result is that to-day the C. P. R. hotels touch the hearts of the people.

WOODEN HANDSHAKE.

A Frenchman who meets you half a dozen times a day shakes hands each time. M. Poulbot, an artist, is tired of this eternal hand-shaking. Says the Daily Mail Paris correspondent: In the little Montmartre cafe which he and his friends frequent, he has hung up by a chain a carved wooden hand. When he enters he goes to the hand and shakes it vigorously. This makes a great noise by jangling a piece of iron inside a tin kettle at the other end of the chain.

The signal is accepted by those who hear it as a sign that M. Poulbot has shaken hands with all his friends.

TURTLE 800 YEARS OLD.

The "Old Man of the Pacific," a turtle whose age is said to be 800 years or a trifle over, has just changed its residence from the California coast to the Central Park menagerie, New York. The turtle weighs 64 pounds and is 6 feet 8 inches long from tip of nose to tip of tail. His age was figured out from the sixteen squares marked on the top of his shell, each square representing fifty years. Two policemen and two menagerie keepers enjoyed a ride on the turtle's back when it arrived. A policeman poked the turtle with his club and he bit the club in two.

Lieutenant Graf, of the German army, has succeeded in crossing Africa in a motor boat. The most important geographical result of the enterprise appears to be the discovery that there is a continuous waterway from the source of the Nile, in Northern Rhodesia, to the river Congo, which is thus proved to be the longest river in Africa. In 1899 the same official crossed Africa in a motor car.

THIN FOR YEARS—"GAINS 22 POUNDS IN 23 DAYS"

Remarkable Experience of F. Gagnon. Builds Up Weight Wonderfully.

"I was all run down to the very bottom," writes F. Gagnon. "I had to quit work, I was so weak. Now, thanks to Sargol, I look like a new man. I gained 22 pounds in 23 days."

"Sargol has put 20 pounds on me in 14 days," states W. D. Roberts. "It has made me sleep well, enjoy what I ate and enabled me to work with interest and pleasure."

"I weighed 132 pounds when I commenced taking Sargol. After taking 20 days I weighed 144 pounds. Sargol is the most wonderful preparation for flesh building I have ever seen," declares D. Martin, and J. Meier adds: "For the past twenty years I have taken medicine every day for indigestion and not thinner every year. I took Sargol for forty days and feel better than I have felt in twenty years. My weight has increased from 100 to 170 pounds."

When hundreds of men and women—and there are hundreds, with more coming every day—living in every nook and corner of this broad land, voluntarily testify to weight increases ranging all the way from 10 to 25 pounds, given them by Sargol, you must admit Mr. and Mrs. and Miss Thin Reader, that there must be something in the Sargol method of flesh building after all.

Hadn't you better look into it, just as thousands of others have done? Many thin folks say: "I'd give most anything to put on a little extra weight, but when someone suggests a way they exclaim, 'Not a chance. Nothing will make me plump. I'm built to stay thin.' Until you have tried Sargol, you do not and cannot know that this is true."

Sargol has put pounds of healthy "stay there" flesh on hundreds who doubted and in spite of their doubts. You don't have to believe in Sargol to grow plump from its use. You just take it and watch weight pile up, hollows vanish and your figure round out to pleasing and normal proportions. You weigh yourself when you begin and again when you finish and you let the scales tell the story.

Sargol is absolutely harmless. It is a tiny concentrated tablet. You take one with every meal. It mixes with the food you eat for the purpose of assimilating all its food-producing ingredients. It prepares these fat-making elements in an easily assimilated form, which the blood can readily absorb and carry all over your body. Plump, well-developed persons don't need Sargol to produce this result. Its function is without aid. But thin folks' assimilative organs do not. This fatty portion of their food now goes to waste through their bodies like unburned coal through an open grate. A few days' test of Sargol in your case will surely prove whether or not this is true of you. Isn't it worth trying?

EASTERN CANADIAN LETTER

BY B. B. COOKE

At Aug. 7.—Interest was roused in local circles in this city and recently by the announcement in Washington that the United States treasury will advance to American banks in exchange for what are first-class securities they have, and thus enable the banks to avoid a money stringency when the crops have to be moved this fall. Some of the eastern newspapers hinted that there might be a lesson for Canada in this, and that the Canadian government would do well to show the same anxiety over the supply of money for Canadian crop moving as Secretary McAdoo has shown.

Obviously, say the financial men, no such thing could be expected from the Canadian banks. McAdoo's scheme means simply that the Washington treasury, which keeps large supplies of currency on hand, shall act as a lending bank where the real banks of the country can bring their burden of securities and re-discount them—at a remarkably low rate of course—so as to give them a margin for profit on the money thus obtained. While a number of leading eastern American bankers say the more is quite unnecessary and is only a bit of melodrama on the part of the new secretary, Canadian bank men insist that the scheme is not only a good one but will lead sooner or later to a solution of the problem of an inelastic circulation system as it now exists in the States. Not a few Canadians find occasion to "grope about" the superior of our Canadian circulation system over the American system, pointing out that our banks are not allowed to issue currency up to the amount of their paid-up capital, but can issue in the crop-moving months additional currency amounting to 15 per cent of their combined paid-up capital and reserve. It is a fact, however, that the issue of this additional currency costs the Canadian banks fairly heavily in fees to the Ottawa department, and they are not too quick to take advantage of the very scheme for an elastic circulation system, which they now point out so proudly.

This city is fairly beaming with good nature over the reports of the crop prospects. In the last week or ten days such hopeful accounts have been coming in that the gloom which has been hovering over the city is almost entirely gone and the manufacturing and jobbing houses are beginning to raise their appropriations for getting into business again this fall. In western business again the people who have returned from the Pacific coast and the great prairies are closely questioned by the heads of big firms who are interested in a nation-wide market. One big clothing house has decided to open up new branches in Edmonton and Calgary, in addition to the branches in Winnipeg. The general tone of the business world of the east is not only cheerful but almost buoyant in spots. It is felt that the money stringency will soon ease off and that Canada, with undamaged credit, will continue to draw large investments from abroad—though not for outside real estate speculation.

Real estate in Toronto, by the way, is keeping very quiet, not by any hiding its head. Although the building permits for downtown structures were two million dollars higher for July of this year than last year, there is little activity in the house-building line. Huge "sky-line" subdivisions are to be found in each direction from the city. Some of these subdivisions lie twelve miles up Yonge street and have not a single dwelling on them save the original farm-house and barn. A year ago it was next thing to impossible to find houses to rent in this city. Persons who had any kind of decent and reasonable accommodation remained where they were rather than take a chance on getting houses elsewhere. At the same time the apartment houses were arranged because of the high rents and hand-picked tenants they were able to secure. While rents have not come down very much, either for apartments or houses, there are a great many of both vacant. "To-let" signs are becoming common where once they were scarce and apartment house janitors that were once indifferent are now hustling for business. Prices of land remain about stationary. No one expects a rise in anything but King and Yonge property, though the prices will not likely drop.

The threat of the Intercolonial railway employees to go on strike did not cause any general anxiety in the city of Montreal, as it was pretty well known that the department of railways and canals at Ottawa would make almost any reasonable concession. The position of the commissioner, Frank Gaudet, to whom Hon. Frank Cochrane gave practical charge of the road, is a curious one, for to fight the union and win the fight would be to inflict a heavy blow upon the administration. The ex-minister, Hon. George E. Graham, took pains to encourage unionism as a means of offsetting the patronage evil on the road.

FRECKLES

Now is the Time to Get Rid of These Ugly Spots.

There's no longer the slightest need of feeling ashamed of your freckles, as the prescription ointment—double strength—is guaranteed to remove these homely spots.

Simply get an ounce of ointment—double strength from D. M. Campbell and apply a little of it at night and morning, and you should soon see that even the worst freckles have begun to disappear, while the lighter ones have vanished entirely. It is seldom that more than an ounce is needed to completely clear the skin and gain a beautiful clear complexion.

Be sure to ask for the double strength ointment as this is sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove freckles.

"OUR CHAPS."

Master Harold had returned after his first day at a kindergarten school, says the Manchester Guardian.

"Well, Harold," said a friend of his mother's who was calling, "how do you like school? I suppose you are the youngest there?"

"Oh, no!" said Harold indignantly, drawing himself to his full height and throwing out his chest. "Oh, no, some of our chaps come in for perambulators."

VISIT TO BURBANK GREAT PLANT WIZARD

Where Time is Worth $300 an Hour. A Modest Man Who Does Things.

"Was a day in May," says Barton W. Carle in Country Gentleman, "one of those $10,000 days as they say in that money-reckless California way, upon which I journeyed to Santa Rosa and monopolized $452.50 worth of Burbank time. This reckoning is based upon the wizard's own computation of the value of his time—$300 an hour, which figures down to $5 a minute, or to carry it further down, eight and one-third cents a second."

When Mr. Burbank mentioned the value of his hours it was in a gentle, detached sort of way. There was no hint or suggestion of infection or manner that he desired to hasten my departure or cut short the very interesting excursion through his garden of spineless tombstones—cactus is the common name, botanical name Opuntia; this scientific—but they do look for all the world like growing tombstones if you happen to catch a certain slant of the sun on them and are not used to seeing them bulk up in solid masses. Yes, and at the present rate of growth by the Burbank method they cost almost as much as small headstones—forty cents a leaf or pad or whatever you desire to call it.

The Burbank home was modest and unpretentious. The Burbank grass didn't seem any greener or any longer than any of the neighbors' grass. It wasn't until I got inside that I learned the grass was really remarkable in that it can go without water for two years, bears a yellow flower and, when in proper development, provides a lawn carpet of the texture of Axminster. It is called Hypericum and flourishes in the Andes. Mr. Burbank told me.

One of the most surprising things about Burbank is the gentleness and the force and magnetism of his personality. His egotism seems more reflective and contemplative than aggressive. He is a small, slight man, almost femininely delicate of mold. His long, thin face and high forehead, mellow complexion and large, soulful eyes are reminiscent of the scholars of the Renaissance, the monastic scholars who buried themselves in dusty old books and denied the world, pottering about in their cell-like studies of busying themselves in their little walled gardens.

Mr. Burbank lives alone with a few servants in a new cottage on one side of the street. Opposite is his old home, where he lived for many years with his mother, and back of this is what appeared to me as his little grove of spineless tombstones. In pointing out the old homestead, before we crossed over to inspect the blooming and blossomless, the fruit and fruitless, the spiny and spineless cacti, Mr. Burbank said softly:

"That is where I am dictating to forty-three stenographers." He said it as if it were the most usual thing in the world to dictate to forty-three stenographers. Then he whispered, smiling sadly the while, that he was a very busy man and that his time was worth $300 an hour. You began to get rathened then of one side of Luther Burbank's greatness. He can talk of wonders and superlatives in words of one syllable and with the ingenuousness of a child. Later, when he mentioned that the company which now controls the output of his gardens had sold $25,000 worth of spineless cactus in one year from one-quarter of an acre of that Santa Rosa back yard he said it as simply as if he were mentioning the uttermost commonplace of commonplaces.

It was the same during his discussion of the spineless cactus. He would talk of four thousand and five thousand tons to the acre and assert that he hoped that some of his cacti would be developed so as to feed twenty cows to the acre; but then he would add that there was only a limited area in this country where it could thrive and that fifteen degrees of frost was generally deadly.

The biggest private growers of spineless cacti in California say that it is worth too much to them now as a "seed" to feed it to cattle. The $500-acre land is being sold entirely on a propagation basis, and so it will remain as long as such an artificial value as forty cents a leaf is maintained.

Burbank did not talk much about the thornless blackberry, which is another of his wonders, but said as he left it that he would give a reward of $1,000 to anyone who would find a single prickler on it.

The Santa Rosa wizard is a widower. He has no children. Personally, he shrinks from the limelight and usually is annoyed by visitors of every sort. There is no doubt of his devotion to and absorption in his work and I am convinced that there is a great deal of sincerity in his objective to benefit mankind.

NOTICE.

"Navigable Waters Protection Act." NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the GENOVA BAY LUMBER COMPANY, LIMITED, with head office at the City of Victoria, in the Province of British Columbia, is applying to His Excellency the Governor-General of Canada in Council for approval of the area plans, site and description of works proposed to be constructed in Union Bay, Saanich, Arm, Vancouver Island, at the northeast corner of Lot Three (3), part of Section Eleven (11), Range 1, W. North Saanich, Province of British Columbia, according to a map or plan on file in the Land Registry Office, at the said City of Victoria, and there numbered 1913, and has deposited the area and site plans of the proposed works and a description thereof with the Minister of Public Works at Ottawa, and a duplicate thereof with the Registrar General of Titles in the Land Registry Office in the City of Victoria, British Columbia, and that the matter of the said application will be proceeded with at the expiration of one month from the time of the first publication of this Notice in the Canada Gazette. Dated this 10th day of June, A.D. 1913. GENOVA BAY LUMBER COMPANY, LIMITED.

NOTICE TO WATER CONSUMERS.

Owing to the unnecessary and wasteful use of water, it has been found necessary to enforce the provisions of Clause 3 of the Water Works By-law, which is as follows: "No person shall sprinkle, or use in any manner whatsoever, water from any description, except between the hours of 5 and 9 o'clock in the morning, and the hours of 5 and 9 o'clock in the evening." The water will be turned off from the premises of any party detected infringing this By-law. C. H. RUST, Water Commissioner, Victoria, B. C., July 22, 1913.

TO-DAY IN CANADIAN HISTORY

On this day in the summer of 1890, Sir William Phips sailed from Nanctucket in Massachusetts. With two thousand two hundred men he embarked on a fleet of thirty-two trading and fishing vessels, to wrest the fortress of Quebec from the keeping of the redoubtable Frontenac. Phips was "a self-made" man, who had been a shepherd till eighteen years of age, then a ship's carpenter. While working at that trade in Boston, he fell in with a wealthy widow, and married her. Afterwards he made a fortune for himself by the romantic process of recovering the cargo of a Spanish treasure-ship, sunk fifty years before. Early in this same year he had led an expedition against Port Royal in Nova Scotia, had received the surrender of that place without fighting, and had carried home booty enough to pay all costs. But at last his luck was to fail him. He sailed up to Quebec indeed, and summoned Frontenac to surrender. Frontenac haughtily replied that he would answer only by the mouths of his cannon; and they answered for him to such good effect that soon the New England fleet set sail for home, whilst the people of Quebec thronged the churches in thanksgiving for their deliverance.

By the treaty concluded at Washington seventy-one years ago to-day between Lord Ashburton, British special minister, and Daniel Webster, American secretary of state, the boundary dispute between New Brunswick and Maine was settled, but hardly to the satisfaction of the people of the province. Lord Ashburton belonged to that class of British statesmen who considered colonial responsibilities a burden, while Webster, a shrewd diplomat, represented those Americans whose demand was for expansion at any price. The result of the battle of wits between two such men was that, of the 12,000 square miles of territory in dispute, the United States got 7,000 square miles, the more valuable as well as the larger portion. Thus the future Dominion was deprived of an Atlantic winter port as well as of much territory. When the treaty came before the United States senate for ratification, Webster feared that that body might consider that he had not secured a large enough slice, and displayed a map made by Franklin which showed that the English contention in regard to the boundary was correct. Webster considered that his negotiations were quite "a feather in his cap," and the Canadians of to-day must agree that he was justified in his conduct. Yet the "Little Englander" hailed Lord Ashburton's treaty as a triumph, and agreed with him that the disputed territory was "worth nothing."

Hector Fabre, editor of L'Ordre, of Montreal, Le Canadien and L'Evenement of Quebec, and of Paris-Canada in Paris, was born in Montreal seventy-nine years ago to-day. He was educated for the law, but early in life adopted journalism as his life-work.

The first of the higher institutions of learning in North America, "Harvard College," held its first commencement exercises on this date, August 9, in 1636. The "scholarship" collected at "Newtown" was named in honor of the Rev. John Harvard, an English clergyman, who died in 1633, leaving a will by which half of his fortune of some $7,000 was given to the proposed institution. Newtown was changed to Cambridge in honor of the famous English university. As soon as Harvard's bequest was made known, a class of students began, a course of study under Nathaniel Eaton, remembered for his strict and severe discipline. At first Harvard was little more than an Indian school. Efforts were made to educate a few of the aborigines as teachers of their own race, but the attempt was a failure. In 1640 the Rev. Henry Dunster—later forced to resign because of his religious opinions—became the first president of Harvard "College," and he presided at the first commencement, when nine students were graduated. While Harvard is the oldest of American colleges, there were several universities in Latin America long before Harvard was dreamed of.

SCRAP BOOK.

This is "Wash Day" for Farmers of New Jersey.

This is the second Saturday in August, as may easily be computed by studying any 1913 calendar.

That statistic may mean nothing to you, beyond the often observed phenomenon that a Saturday always precedes a Sunday, bringing with it the blessed privilege of sleeping late and of indulging in those mild forms of mania which nowadays so often characterize what Maurice Ketten cynically refers to as "the Day of Rest."

To the rural inhabitants of the eastern central counties of New Jersey, however, the second Saturday of the month named in honor of Gus Selzer is the big day of the year, compared to which the honorable Fourth of July is but the pale reflection of the shadow of the ghost of joy.

From time immemorial—and Jake Jimpson, of Manassquan, says he remembers that the custom began even before that rustic Jersey has turned itself loose on the second Saturday of August, the occasion and the excuse for the orgy of wild extravagance—Hy Jenkins spent $4.25 last year, what with one thing and another—being the annual bath or "wash day."

By this it is not meant to suggest that bucolic Jersey basks but once a year. The bath tub, that cherry in the cocktail of civilization, long ago invaded New Jersey, and the Saturday night bath is as much of an institution in rustic Jersey as it is in this city at the select boarding house kept by the widow—you know the one we mean—who was formerly a lady of leisure, but who was brought to her present reduced circumstances by the unfortunate investments of her late millionaire husband.

"Bath day" in New Jersey means the annual visit to the seashore and the dip in the surf, when Neptune is willing. The swim is only an incident, however, and the centre of attraction is the "midway," where concessions of all sorts calculated to enliven a rural holiday are granted to fakers and showmen from New York, Philadelphia and other cities.

Some in carriages, some in lumber wagons, a few in automobiles, others on foot, the farmers begin their annual trek to the beach the day or night before the day set, and when Old Sol gets up out of his bed in the Atlantic on Saturday morning he finds the majority of the festive crowd already on hand to greet him.

One of the characters of the New Jersey festival is a faker who sells four miles for a dollar, and offers to "throw in" two more. Every year for a century more or less, this fellow has been on hand. He always tells the farmers that his whips are absolutely worthless, no good, and not worth carrying home. This frank confession, far from hurting trade, brings a shower of dollars down upon him, and it is stated that he has never cleared less than a hundred dollars on "bath day."

Throwing balls at a dodging Senegambian, with unimpeachable claims as the reward for accuracy; attempting to "ring" canes on jack knives; wooing chance with the "wheel of fortune," and others of those amusements invented by Noah to while away the weary hours on the ark, are favorite pastimes on "big sea day." And, of course, the seventh daughter of the seventh daughter is there, and the fat lady and her bearded sister, and—

But you know them all. And, although you may sneer at the custom, down deep in your gizzard you are railing at the unkind fates that prevent you from mingling with the merry crowd that will gather to-day on the New Jersey shore. Aren't you?

JOY RIDE IS TAKEN IN ANOTHER'S BUGGY

Citizen Arrested and Charged
With Theft of Property of a Strawberry Vale Resident

A tale of a joy ride behind a fine horse was told in police court to-day, when Ferdinand Quinker was charged with the theft last night of a horse and buggy belonging to Robert Nell Walker, Strawberry Vale. The defendant was defended by Frank Higgins, elected he tried summarily and pleaded not guilty.

Mr. Walker said he came into the city shortly after nine o'clock in the evening with his daughter to see the water carnival. He tied his bay mare, which was harnessed to a Gladstone buggy, in front of the St. James hotel, and made it comfortable there. Returning after ten o'clock when the water illuminations were over he found that horse and buggy had disappeared.
They looked about for it for some time,
and not having any success in the search he reported the theft to the police.

He and his daughter then walked along Johnson street, and after going a short distance they saw the buggy coming towards them, being driven at a rapid gait. He hailed the driver but the vehicle was not stopped until the man who heard him got the bridle of the animal and held it until he got to
it. The man in the dock was the one who was driving.

"Instead of this gentleman expressing regret or offering some reasonable excuse for being in the buggy, which was not his property, he reminded me that he had been in the German garage," continued Mr. Walker. "Far from apologizing for having taken it he began to upbraid me for having left my horse tied up in the street. I thought that was adding insult to injury.
There was no officer in sight at the moment so I escorted him to the police station myself. I decided that he would not get away from me."

Magistrate Jay—"Did he offer no excuse at all for being in possession of your property?"

Mr. Walker—"No, and that was what amused me. He seemed to think he had some sort of right to it."

Mr. Higgins—"Did he refuse to go with you to the station?"

Mr. Walker—"Oh, no. He went with me because he had to go. I was determined to stick to him and I knew I was well supported by those around me, who saw the justice of my action,
if he had tried to resist."

Mrs. Annie Walker Babbitt corroborated her father. When they overtook the men in the buggy they went into a store and telephoned for the police while he was talking to the men.
When she came out she was told he had gone with the accused to the station and a young man, apparently a gentleman, came up and said he was very sorry for the trouble they had been put to. He said that he was a stranger to the man arrested, who had asked him to take a drive. He offered to drive her any where she wished and agreed to take her to the police station.

Just then the man who had stopped the horse offered to take her there and she preferred to go with him. The horse had been driven very quickly, being quite wet and panting hard.

To Mr. Higgins Mrs. Babbitt said that Quinker's companion was a smooth-looking individual.
Constable John A. McLellan, who was on point duty at the corner of Government and Fort streets, had occasion to caution the accused. About 9:30 he saw him driving west on Fort street, and as he did not stop for a signal nor for a call he had to step out and take the horse by the bridle.
The accused was driving though he was in no condition to do so, and witness told him he would have to take the horse to the stable. The younger man, who was apparently sober, said he would lead it there and they went down Broughton street. There was a rope dangling from the bridle. The horse at that time was in fair condition but the accused was the other way.

Mr. Higgins asked for a remand in order to get witnesses who would swear that the smooth young man had approached Quinker in the Regent saloon and tried to get him to buy a horse, and took him out to try it.
The magistrate granted a remand until Tuesday, with bail fixed at $1,000 in two sureties.

clusion of the installation ceremonies refreshments were served, and a very pleasant hour or so was spent at the banquet board. Speeches by the installing officers, were both interesting and instructive.

When Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills Cured her Chronic Liver Complaint

Mrs. R. Smith, of Winnipeg, Man., tells an interesting story of relief from almost intolerable sufferings.

"I can hardly tell you how great my sufferings have been. Chronic liver complaint accompanied by biliousness were a daily source of trial to me. Every day
I experienced the sickening effects of these ailments. I longed for some medicine that should permanently drive them away."

Hearing of Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills, I thought they were worthy of a trial. My surprise was indeed great.

Continuing with them I found my troubles were slowly but surely leaving me, and before long I once more knew what it was to be free from the harassing effects of the ailments that had long sickened and weakened me. So great is my faith in Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills that I shall never on any account be without them."

REPORT WILL BE READY ON MONDAY

Mr. Meredith Has Left and Statement on Sooke Tenders is Being Drafted

Most important among the subjects which will engage the attention of the city council on Monday will be the report on the tenders for Sooke waterworks, which were opened last week.

Water Commissioner Rust was busy this morning preparing the report after consultation with Consulting Engineer Meredith, who has left for the south
again. The resident engineer, Boyd Ehle, went out on the ground again to-day.

The mayor said this morning: "I have no doubt that when the aldermen have the full information before them, as to the cost of completion of the undertaking, the work, the land yet to be expropriated and other outlays, they will approve of reference to the people for an additional vote by by-law to complete the contract."

One of the aldermen indicated the opinion of several of his colleagues
when he told the Times that there would be opposition forthcoming against the letting of any more contracts beyond the present available funds without the disposal of additional bonds. He pointed out that it may not be necessary to wait till January before going to the public for a further vote. He remarked that the city council will require some $100,000 towards the Johnson street bridge, and from that necessity alone the two by-laws could be put together. The public may learn for the first time from this report what the actual cost of the undertaking is expected to be.

The water is steadily advancing in the Smith's Hill reservoir, and this morning registered 14 feet 7 inches. It will not be long before the desired change can take place in the supply afforded to the northwest section of the city, which has been the subject of considerable dissatisfaction.

OUR LETTER BOX

Letters for publication in Daily Times must be received at the Times office not later than five o'clock p. m. of the day before publication. When received they will be held over until the following day.

While unobjectionable anonymous communications will be published, the name and address of every writer of such letters must be given to the editor.

LAND SETTLEMENT.

"To the Editor:—Would the editor of the Colonist be kind enough to publish the names of one or two places 'on the outside' where he claims work can be had? I have just returned from a trip to the mainland, and I did not find any scarcity of labor; on the contrary, I found men digging ditches for less money per foot than the Chinaman, who always did this kind of work. As to clearing land, the capitalists, who were given the land by the British Columbia government, have not decided to clear it to any great extent, and the pre-emptor who was allowed to settle on the outskirts of civilization, will not be in a position financially for the next twenty years to employ even Russian labor."

I have spent the past five years in northern British Columbia as preemptor, and although there are some nice valleys and grass lands throughout the province, they were all staked
for purchase four and five years ago.
I have seen settlements of upwards of one hundred where their total cash would not amount to one thousand dollars. As it is impossible to make a living on the land, they are compelled to drift back to the nearest town or city in search of employment. As the government work can no longer look

LOCAL NEWS

Coming to City.—Clarence Eddy gave an organ recital at Saskatoon this week, and left there yesterday for Victoria to open the St. John's organ on Monday and Tuesday evening next.

Building Permit.—A building permit was issued to-day to P. Merriman for a seven-roomed dwelling costing $2,400,
at 951 Caledonia avenue. Parfitt Brothers will be the contractors.

Horses in Parade.—The city had 17 single and five double turn-outs of horses in the parade yesterday in addition to two automobile trucks. The appearance of the animals was a fine tribute to the corporation stud which is now in charge of John R. Denholm.

Faints in Street.—Overcome by the heat a man, who would not disclose his name, dropped at the corner of Government street and Cormorant street this afternoon in a dead faint.
He was soon revived, and medical attendance was found unnecessary.

Mrs. Schwengers Wins Prize.—Mrs.
B. P. Schwengers won the prize for the best decorated boat taking part in the procession last evening to the Gorge, and achieved this distinction with a gondola design. The prize was a bronze medal.

Looking for Dairy Opportunity.—The secretary of the Board of Trade had call this morning from a leading dairyman who is anxious to establish a creamery in the vicinity of Victoria. He sought a suitable location with good transportation for his product to market.

Prettily Decorated.—Very attractive among the decorations for the Gorge festival last evening was the residence of Captain Brown in Burleigh, which was decorated with pretty colored lights, while the flags of the mariner's code of signals were flown freely.

Fireworks To-night.—The set pieces for the fireworks to-night will consist of a representation of Fort Camosun,
the proposed Seymour Narrows bridge,
the parliament buildings, the drydock,
a maple leaf, and a fight between battleships. They will commence at Beacon Hill park and conclude in the waters of the Inner harbor.

Many Glasses Broken.—The high winds and the dense crowds the past few days have caused many people to break or lose their glasses. My perfect system of matching lenses, quick service and reasonable prices have pleased many who have been unfortunate this week. Frank Clugston, Optician and Optometrist, 554 Yates St.
(corner Douglas). Upstairs. "A business founded upon honor."

Fire Chief Prepares to Leave.—As soon as Assistant Fire Chief Stewart returns from his holidays in about two weeks, the deputy having waited till the successful conclusion of the parade yesterday, Fire Chief Davis will leave for the south and east. After attending the early portion of the meeting of the Pacific Coast Fire Chiefs' Association at Tacoma, he will go east to New York to the convention of the International Association of Fire Engineers, which will be a notable gathering.

Asks for Report.—No start has yet been made on the Northwest sewer and Mayor Morley said this morning that he had been pressing for an early report on the work from the government engineer, R. H. Thomson, who was called into consultation. He desired the report not only from the standpoint of the health of the district, but in order to start public works. This being one of the few undertakings upon which a sum of money is available for immediate start, the mayor hopes that the government engineer's report will be ready shortly, and that the neighboring municipalities of Saanich and Esquimalt will assist in the necessary details in order that no further delays may be experienced.

POLICE ARRANGEMENTS WERE ALL ADMIRABLE

Absence of Accident and Crime in Spite of Carnival Crowds Constitutes Record

This has been an exceptionally busy week for the police force, and good work has been done by both uniformed and plainclothes men in the protection of life and property. A result of this has been that there have been no accidents on the streets except for two that were due to the imprudence or misadventure of the victims, and that crime has been practically absent.

It is probably not overstating the fact when it is claimed that never before in a city of this size anywhere has there been a week of merry-making, with the presence in the city of thousands of strangers, when there has been such a record. Nothing has occurred which has brought the work of the police into the daily news in the course of news stories, but none the less the force under the command of Chief Langley has never been tested as it has been during the past ten days. That it has come through with such a record is something that will no doubt give as much satisfaction to citizens generally as it does to the chief and his men—but with them it is in the everyday work and they do not think it is anything wonderful.

There was a tremendous duty cast upon the force in the direction of traffic on the streets, and it was necessary to augment the force on point duty. To this members of the force have been assigned in view of the delicate nature of the work, while the specials have been engaged in patrol largely. For the past three days, especially, point duty has presented a strenuous problem to the men who have had to take it. All who have been down town, particularly at night, and above all last night, must have wondered that no one was hurt or killed by the crush of motors on the streets and with such a jam of pedestrians crowding over on to the pavements and most of them intent on anything but watching out for their own safety.

The mounted constables were of great use on the streets when parades or fire brigade runs were on, and materially assisted in keeping the course clear for blocks at a time.

There was a natural fear on the part of the public and of the force that there would be an influx of the criminal classes from the adjoining cities, especially as there has been a series of big events on the coast which have been attended by crowds of all sorts and it was known that these would move on to Victoria in the usual course. With the assistance of plainclothes men from the mainland cities and the chief cities across the line it was possible to stop the greater number of these at the border, and those who succeeded in eluding notice there were caught on the streets and sent out of the city.

Like the uniformed force the detective staff, under the direction of Detective Carlow, was busy day and night, with the satisfactory consequence that they prevented any crime of a serious nature. Up to the time of going to press there had been but one report of a burglary. This took place some time yesterday afternoon while the occupants of the house were out watching the parade. The dwelling of William P. Smith, Collinson street, was entered and a quantity of jewelry stolen. There are some roomers in the house and it is customary to leave the door unlocked for them.

Whether the robbery was committed by someone in the vicinity who was familiar with the fact, or by some one who happened along and found on trying the door that it was open, is not known but the detectives are working on the case. Another jewelry theft led to the arrest of a Chinese who appeared in police court this morning.

There has been little picking of pockets, so far as reports to the police go. One took place at Beacon Hill on the first night of the fireworks, another at the Grange, one after the sports at Oak Bay and one or two on the streets.

Chief Langley, Deputy Chief Palmer, the detectives and other officers of the force have been on practically 24 hours a day duty, and no one will be so glad when the rush is over as they will be. Not that they will relax any of their watchfulness, but it will be possible for them to get something more than four hours' sleep at a time.

Chief Langley and Detective Carlow both desire to express the thanks of the local force to the plainclothes men from other cities who have been here during the week. It has been no holiday to them, as they have done almost equal duty with the Victoria men and have been an aid in keeping the city clean of crooks from outside who were known to the city men only from photographs. All the visitors are among the best officers in the cities from which they come and their presence here is an earnest of the good feeling and co-operation that exists among the police forces of the Pacific slope.

Jones strolled into the post office to send off a telegram; but, being in no real hurry, waited patiently while the clerk attended to the wants of another man who had entered the office in front of him, and was in need of a penny stamp. The little piece of paper was duly handed across the counter. Then, "Don't you want to post a parcel?" inquired the clerk. "Not to-day," came the reply. "Then what about a few registered envelopes or some postcards. We've got a new supply just in." "But I don't want any!" The man was beginning to grow angry—a fact which made him speak more freely. "Well, well, well," he remarked, "postal orders are always useful. So are money orders. We can provide them to almost any value, you know. And, for that matter, we can provide them to any value." "So the clerk, still smiling, turned to Jones. "Sorry to have kept you waiting, sir," he apologized, "but that chap's my barber—I owed him a square with him to-day somehow."

AN ATTRACTIVE FLOAT

One of the automobiles in the big parade yesterday was decorated as a locomotive and moved along the streets with its bell ringing. Being of white flowers, picked out with colors, the float drew a great deal of attention.

HUNDRED THOUSAND OVER THE AVERAGE

Street Car Traffic Exceeds All Records; Yesterday Heaviest Day in History of Company

When the carnival closes to-night there will have been carried on the cars of the British Columbia Electric Railway Company far over a quarter of a million passengers, and all this without a single accident of any kind, even the slightest.

It is estimated by the officials of the company that at midnight the traffic record will reach at least 420,000 passengers carried on the cars of the company since they began to run on Monday morning. This represents 100,000 more people than is carried in an average week.

For the five days for which complete traffic returns are available the figures are as follows:

Monday	46,381
Tuesday	50,028
Wednesday	50,573
Thursday	54,874
Friday	50,330
Saturday (est.)	60,000
Total for week	322,194

Yesterday the traffic reached the highest point it has ever touched since trains first began to run here. In effect the whole population of the city was carried once during the day.

Ordinarily the traffic at the present stage of the city's growth is from 24,000 to 27,000 people every day, with the Saturday figures rising to about 45,000. An average week's traffic would be about a quarter of a million.

SECRETARY DECLARES SUPPORT IS LACKING

Says Victorians Have Not Come to Assistance of Car- nival Committee as Expected

The secretary of the carnival committee, Randolph Stuart, expressed the opinion this morning that the public of Victoria had not given the support to the carnival which the committee had a right to expect.

"There has been much criticism," he said, "which is not warranted, and which can only tend to cripple our efforts to make this carnival the most successful show week on the Pacific coast. Look at the musical festival on Wednesday, and the track events of the Saturday. How many Victorians attended the former, and why were not more of our athletes out at the meet? We ought to have this support of our own people."

"There is another phase which has been very discouraging to us. People have told the members of the committee that they hate crowds; they have closed up their homes and gone away for the week, increasing thereby the difficulties of the accommodation committee and making it more difficult to achieve success."

Mr. Stuart was not prepared to discuss the future of the carnival as yet, particularly as the programme is not yet concluded. He indicated that several details will be modified in future. There was the need of a better system of sectional committees keeping in touch with the central office, to whom the public looked for information.

It is, however, clear from the opinion of members of the committee that they have run across difficult cross currents of feeling. Officials pay a tribute to the work of the daily press, who have kept the carnival well before the public, and regard that as one of the best features of the week's entertainment.

The committee met in executive this morning and will be again in session early in the week.

H. M. S. NEW ZEALAND SAILS AT 6 O'CLOCK

West Virginia Leaves at Noon To-morrow; Presentation to Capt. Halsey

With band playing and colors flying H. M. S. New Zealand will sail from Esquimalt harbor at 5.30 p.m. to-day for Mazatlan, Mexico, and the continuation of her empire cruise which will not end until some time in December when she anchors in Plymouth Sound. As on her arrival, she will be escorted by the Princess Charlotte and a whole fleet of yachts and launches. The citizens' carnival committee is chartering a small boat and will accompany the fleet.

In order to afford the public every opportunity to witness the cruiser departure orders have been given that the navy yard at Esquimalt be thrown open for all at 5 o'clock this afternoon. The public will be freely admitted so as to bid farewell to the ship.

The U. S. S. West Virginia sails some time between 10 and 12 o'clock Sunday morning. The exact sailing hour has not yet been fixed as Admiral Reynolds will be attending a breakfast party given by Sir Richard McBride and the departure will depend upon his return.

The Lieutenant-Governor and Sir Richard McBride paid their farewell call to the New Zealand this morning when in behalf of the province the Lieutenant-Governor presented Captain Halsey with a silver loving cup as a remembrance of the occasion. Captain Halsey replied appropriately. Sir Richard McBride read a telegram from the Rt. Hon. R. L. Borden saying that the prime minister was glad to hear that the dreadnought's reception here had been all that could be desired.

The New Zealand's cruise after she leaves here includes the following calls: Mazatlan, August 19; Acapulco, Aug. 20-22; Salina Cruz, Aug. 23-25; Panama, Aug. 29-Sept. 1; Callao, Sept. 2-13; Valparaiso, Sept. 17-24; Monte Video, Oct. 2-7; Rio de Janeiro, Oct. 10-17; Trinidad, Oct. 27-31; Barbados, Nov. 1-3; Jamaica, Nov. 6-10; Bermuda, Nov. 12-23; Halifax, Nov. 27. The date of her departure from Halifax is not yet scheduled.

U. S. S. West Virginia will set sail at 15 knots for Bremerton, where she will join the Pacific reserve fleet as before. Liberty is up for all bluejackets at midnight to-night. Visitors will be allowed on the American ship from 1 to 5 this afternoon, but only official callers were permitted on the New Zealand at any time to-day. The officers of the two ships exchanged calls at various times during the day when they were not on watch.

The decks of the New Zealand were a scene of activity this morning preparing the cruiser for her voyage. Considerable quantities of fresh provisions of various sorts were taken aboard, as it will be over a week before she next touches a port.

The cup which was presented to the New Zealand was nearly two feet high, of eighteenth century design. It was of English manufacture, hall mark sterling silver, handsomely chased. A figure of Victory surmounted the top, while the cup was embellished with the British Columbia coat of arms. The inscription said: "H. M. S. New Zealand, from the Provincial Government, on behalf of the people, on the occasion of her Imperial visit to Western Canadian waters." Engraved on one side were the words: "One King, One Flag, One Empire," and the date, "Victoria, B. C., August 9, 1913." It stands on an ebony pedestal, finely polished, and was supplied by Charles E. Redfern & Son.

CALIFORNIANS WON.

Joe Tyler and Phil Brain, of Spokane, were beaten in the doubles yesterday by Eli Fottler and E. McCormick, of California, for the right to meet Evans and Milne, of Vancouver, in the tennis finals at Tacoma.

Pitcher "Baron" Knetzer, the Brooklyn hold-out, has "jumped his job" with the Trolley Dodgers, and signed with the Pittsburgh Federal League Club.

VICTORIA PLAYERS WIN POLO TITLE

Defeat Vancouver Men 8-7 in Exciting Game; Extra Chucker Required

Victoria this morning at the Willows won the polo championship for British Columbia with a score of 8-7 against Vancouver. Alec MacKenzie, who made the final shot which drove the ball through the Vancouver goal, was carried off the field amidst a scene of great enthusiasm, after one of the most spectacular and fast matches that has ever been played in the city.

With a score of 5-1 in favor of Vancouver at the close of the third chucker Victoria's chances for the championship looked very slim. But the final three brought out their best play, and the rallies which startled the onlookers who had resigned themselves to the defeat of the local team reaped goals rapidly for the Victoria men.

Both teams had their handicaps. Captain Isaac, who sustained a serious injury to his wrist in a practice game yesterday, was unable to play for the Vancouver team, his place, however, being ably filled by Blundell Brown, of the Terminal City's team. MacKenzie, who did some of the best play of the morning, was also disabled temporarily in a practice game yesterday, and came out of hospital after sustaining a mild concussion in order to join his colleagues in the championship contest.

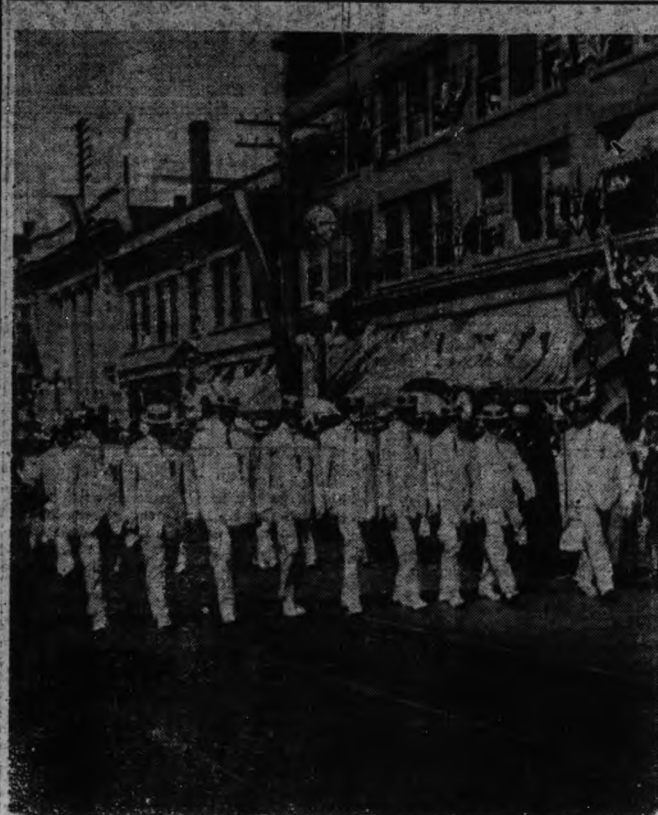

The two teams played magnificently although in all justice to Vancouver it must be said that for the first three chuckers they put up a much finer fight than Victoria. The latter team, however, more than surpassed them in the brilliance of their play in the final three chuckers, when they made six goals to Vancouver's two, the last chucker closing on a tie of 7-7, when Vancouver forced its way through the Victoria goal. Their play was the more praiseworthy in this game owing to the fact that Snowden, who dropped his stick about a minute before the goal was made, was seriously handicapped as an aggressive element, and spent the remaining seconds in heading off the ponies of the Victoria men.

Vancouver forced the games steadily from the opening game to the half time, Snowden striking off for Vancouver in the first chucker, and the other men falling in line with some brilliant work. The play was practically before the Victoria goal the whole time, and the local team seemed unable to force back its opponent, the ponies showing up badly and scarcely breaking into a gallop at any time. During the entire period not a single check stroke was offered to Snowden, and it was not until after the bell sounded that MacKenzie scored a goal for the local team.

This score they followed up in poor style, only making two attacks on the Vancouver goal throughout the entire game. Vancouver scored again in the second chucker, and kept its lead by obtaining three further goals in quick succession. Snowden scoring the fifth goal just before the bell sounded for half time.

Grosvonor, for Vancouver, caught the ball in the next chucker which opened the second half of the play, giving a strong back drive that sent the ball well toward the Victoria goal. As a foul was notified, and a short pause ensued while this was righted, MacKenzie taking the strike and following it down the field. The game was a long one, but Richards and Gunn finally brought the ball down the field and between them hustled it into the Vancouver goal amid wild cheering from the spectators. Vancouver rushed the next game at the start, but Victoria opened up in fine style and did some splendid work, Mac-

VISITORS IN PROCESSION

The Tillikums, of Seattle, who appeared in white costumes, earned applause with their marching and the attractive drills they performed during pauses in the parade.

Kenzie dribbling the ball down the field and placing it well for the Vancouver goal. Tiltling at it in a body it was missed by every man, and Richards wheeled neatly and sent it, with a back drive, right between the posts.

With their confidence rapidly returning, the Victoria team sailed right up to a tie in 6-6 about ten minutes before time was called in the last chucker. Gunn and MacKenzie making some smart and thoughtful play for the locals and Brown and Grosvenor hitting deftly for Vancouver. Irving made a strong hit for Victoria by catching the ball on the fly and reversing the tendency of the rush toward the Victoria goal. There were some excellent passes in the fifth chucker, and Richards made a brilliant goal in the 6-6 tie by shooting the ball through a maze of ponies' feet right through the goal.

In the throw following 7-6, Vancouver leading, Irving picked the ball out and made straight for the Vancouver goal. Although the ball was returned and played for some minutes directly in front of Victoria's posts MacKenzie concluded the play by a brilliant dash for Vancouver's goal, followed only by Snowden, of Vancouver, the score closing 7-7 just a second before the gong rang for time.

The second tie was the occasion for a more enthusiastic outburst from the ring of spectators than at any time during the play, and many who had commenced to leave the field returned to see the result of the hard-fought contest in the final chucker demanded under the circumstances to decide the match.

Both men and ponies played splendidly, and although there was a fair representation of polo enthusiasts in the stands and along the course it is to be regretted that there were not more spectators to witness the truly exciting contest.

Special reference must be made to the inestimable services rendered during the week by Mr. Gordon, of Grand Prairie, who acted as referee for the polo matches, and whose decisions have been so just in every respect that in not a single instance were they queried.

A MOVING BOWER

One of the pretty floats in the parade yesterday was that prepared by Filmy's garage. It was tastefully decorated with flowers and won many expressions of approval from the long lines of spectators.

Cobalt, Ont., Aug. 8.—The old Prospect hotel on the Cobalt Square was gutted by fire early this morning and in the loss of the building two tobaccoists lost their entire stock.

The Bank of Ottawa was also a heavy loser of valuable papers which they had no time to put into the safes. The loss is between $40,000 and $50,000.

MEAT SAWING MACHINE

Shoulder of Beef is Separated Like a Piece of Wood.

There is an art in cutting meat and it is not easy work to do well, but the clumsiest butcher's boy can cut a shoulder of beef as neatly and accurately as his employer if he have the sawing machine invented by a Californian man. The meat block is attached to the machine and a reciprocating saw operates over it. The meat is laid on the block beneath the saw and the butcher turns a crank at the side with one hand, while with the other hand he guides the saw. The crank sets in operation the driving gear that moves the saw and, being multiple gear, it requires very little effort to turn the handle. Impelled by this force, the saw goes through a piece of beef, bone and all, with no hesitation and along any line where it may be directed.

CRANK OPERATES MACHINE.

Ozone generators have been found to be of great value in refrigerating plants and several of the large establishments of Europe have been thus equipped. In the cold storage rooms attached to slaughter-houses the temperature of the air is liable to be raised to a serious extent when the doors are left open for any reason; for instance, when meat is being put in or taken out. The micro-organisms of putrefaction immediately become active under such circumstances and the keeping quality of the meat is diminished. Now it is well known that ozone is a powerful germicide. If the air of the cold storage room is ozonized, its temperature may be raised without injury to the contents.

PRICES HARDEN BUT FLUCTUATIONS SMALL B. C. PACKERS GAINS TWENTY FULL POINTS

Crop News Important but Mexican Conditions Over-shadow Sentiment Granby Firmer but Lull in Portland Miners Due to Carnival

(By F. W. Stevenson & Co.)

New York, Aug. 5.—The market during the first hour receded in a leisurely manner on a relatively light volume of sales, but towards the close hardened somewhat, though fluctuations as a whole are meaningless and failed to denote any particular trend. The decrease in the unfilled orders of Steel Corporation was about in keeping with expectations and exerted no particular influence. To-day's reports suggested that the agricultural commodity markets may be temporarily relieved of that strain which had been produced by the lack of moisture and high temperatures in certain sections owing to the fact that rains are now predicted in quarters of the belt where its need has been felt most.

Crop news will have much to do with determining course of market, though perhaps a factor which at present seems likely to overshadow other considerations is the status of affairs in Mexico, where conditions seem to be reaching a point where occurrences are likely to be of a nature to disturb financial markets.

AQUATIC FESTIVAL IS SCENE OF BEAUTY

Delights of Queen City of Adriatic Are Transferred to Home Waters

Hundreds of persons gathered on shore and boats to witness the display of decorated boats in the land-locked waters at the Gorge last evening, and a pretty scene resulted, one of the most attractive in the whole pageant of the past few days.

While the festival on the waters belonged strictly to the Gorge, it may be said to have spread from the Causeway to the harbor of Esquimalt, for the procession of boats from the Causeway steps never ceased till a late hour, while the play from the searchlights of the warships at Esquimalt lighting up the darkness aided the celebration. Everything which would float, whether launch, rowboat or canoe, was brought into service to convey the crowds, and yet the supply proved inadequate to the demands made upon the boat-houses. While a few of the numerous craft had neglected to provide Oriental lanterns to mark their bows, some had gone much farther and carried out elaborate designs of a decorative character. One of the prettiest decorations was that of Mrs. Charles Wilson, a canoe with Indians, electric lights being used charmingly, while Mrs. Sawyers had an attractive gondola. A third conspicuous boat was that depicting a whale, whose movements occasionally resembled those of the leviathan of the deep in getting stranded. Red fire was distributed to the occupants of the boats, and the sulphurous points with their ruddy glare illuminated the area below the Gorge bridge in a brilliant area of light, piercing the gloom, and outlining the trees and people on the banks.

The bulk of the visitors had congregated in the park above under the impression that the festival would be held upon the stretch of water above the bridge. There they waited about in expectation till they realized that the pivot of the display would be below the rapids. Many of the power cruisers meanwhile shot up through the dark waters above the Craigflower bridge, where a better view could be obtained of the searchlights, whose reflection played fantastic pranks in the placid waters.

Several of the residents had illuminated their homes along Solikirk water, and as the moon rose, its orb took different colors from the smoke of fireworks in the inner harbor, its light penetrating through the haze thus created, adding a weird effect to the illumination on the water.

The soft music of the bands, the illuminations on the principal city buildings and the swirl of the waters as the canoe gilded by all served to stir the imagination and to arouse the sentiment of revelry so necessary to an occasion of this character.

H. M. S. New Zealand and U. S. S. West Virginia threw their twelve searchlights across the portion of the Arm where the Carnival was being held, and the rays crossed and re-crossed with amazing swiftness. The sight of the long, thin shafts of light shifting and moving with dashing speed in the air above attracted much attention from the people in the canoes and on shore, and bore a singular likeness to the famous Aurora Borealis or northern lights. The people in all parts of the city could see the display, and it proved a source of much entertainment to the thousands gathered about the shores of the inner harbor.

LONDON JOURNALIST ARRIVES IN VICTORIA

Leo Scheff, Special Commissioner for Leading British Publications on Tour

That the financial stringency is felt almost entirely among real estate speculators and not by what he terms "legitimate" business men in this country is the opinion of Leo Scheff, the well-known journalist, of London, England, who is in the city after having just completed his third coast-to-coast tour of the Dominion.

"The prospects of a splendid crop are good all over the prairies, where I spent some time visiting and touring the country in an automobile," he said. "I went right up into the heart of the country and talked with the farmers themselves, and they all spoke most optimistically of the outlook. The banks have shown foresight in closing down on real estate speculation, and in London at least this will have the very best possible effect in winning the confidence of financiers."

In connection with his references to the signs of prosperity which he had seen in Canada, and more particularly in the West, Mr. Scheff referred with surprise to the changes which he observed in the city of Victoria since his visit here last year. On his last return to England he made repeated reference in his articles in Lloyd's Weekly, the Manchester Courier, the London Graphic, the Glasgow Herald, and other well-known British papers to the distinctive charm of the British Columbian capital as an English city set down on the uttermost limits of the Empire's dominions.

Mr. Scheff is one of the most prolific writers in the English press of to-day on the subject of Canada. He is special commissioner in this country for about twenty of the leading newspapers and journals in England, and has been instrumental in bringing out numerous special Canadian supplements in British papers, including, among others, a 22-page supplement in the London Graphic, the leading illustrated paper published in Great Britain. In that number Mr. Scheff gave a faithful statement of the conditions as he had observed them in all parts of the Dominion.

It is proof of the widespread interest which is being aroused in the people of the Old Country for matters relating to Canada that the newspapers and other mediums of the kind in Britain grasp eagerly at the opportunity to give through their columns information of the kind that Mr. Scheff is able to furnish. On his present trip he has been commissioned by the Glasgow Herald to give a number of full page articles which, for the first time in the history of that Scottish publication, will be illustrated. He has also under way at the present time a special Canadian supplement for Truth, another prominent British publication, in which he will give a resume of his impressions on this, his third, visit to the West.

Landing at Montreal in the early part of March, the British journalist has taken his tour in deliberate style, although every day has been one of busy study into the conditions which he has undertaken to set out in the English press. Already familiar with the geography of the country through his previous visits, and a constant student of the economic and social conditions as revealed through the Canadian press, he is able to get rapidly into touch with the more specific matters which he has come to investigate at first hand.

"My present tour has taken me into the very heart of the country, Quebec, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, Ontario, the Prairie Provinces and British Columbia," said Mr. Scheff in his interview with the Times yesterday. "I am as convinced as ever of the glorious opportunities of the country. In connection with the bringing out of old country people to Canada, however, I am very much opposed to the encouragement that is too often given to clerks and men of that class to come here, because fundamentally it is the land which offers the most inducements to the immigrant to western Canada, and I would only recommend the bringing out of farm laborers and others who can make the most of the agricultural opportunities."

In connection with the question of immigrants, Mr. Scheff referred to the work being accomplished by some of the home reunion associations in Canada who are giving assistance to hundreds of deserving men who come here from the old land. In Great Britain, he said, there was an effort along similar lines, and societies were formed to assist and encourage farmers to go out to Canada.

As a type of the wonderful accomplishment which he has found in the cities of Canada, Mr. Scheff likes to refer to Medicine Hat, which, he says, at its present rate of progress, will some day be the Pittsburgh of Canada. "A year ago when I was here before," he says, "Medicine Hat was little more than a small settlement in the prairies. To-day it possesses one of the largest flour mills in the Dominion. This is one of the most up-to-date plants in Canada. In addition to this the city possesses a big pottery works and steel works and some of the finest office blocks which I have seen in the Dominion. I quote Medicine Hat because it is an example of what a city can make of itself through a far-seeing city government. The municipality has given manufacturers free power, free land, and exemption from taxes, and the results have at least shown that inducements of the kind will bring people who otherwise would have stayed away. Of course Medicine Hat is an exceptional fortunate in possessing an unlimited supply of free gas, which is an asset of great value."

Another city of the mid-West which has made great strides during the year is Moose Jaw, where he found the electric car system installed since his previous visit and a big jewelry store which, in its interior decorations and appointments, rivals, he says, the famous London emporium of Mappin & Webb.

Mr. Scheff practically concludes his six-months' tour of the Dominion by his visit to Victoria, and will be back in London early in September. That his articles are bound to reach a multitude of readers in the old country can easily be judged by a glance into the facts about the circulation of any one of the papers to which he contributes articles. Lloyd's Weekly, for example, has a weekly circulation of over 1,450,000 copies, and the articles which he contributed to that publication after his visit here last year were spread over seven or eight issues. The call of the West is primarily one of genuine admiration for the country, and in renewing his acquaintance with the Dominion Mr. Scheff pronounces the opinion that "it will one day rival its mighty neighbor and become the pivot of the British Empire itself."

SCOUTS BREAK CAMP

Have Been Popular Feature of Carnival Week; Fairview Troop at Government House.

After a week spent in camp in Beacon Hill park the Boy Scouts will break up late to-day; in fact the Fairview troop, of Vancouver, returned to the mainland on the afternoon steamer. During the week the boys have been the centre of much interest, and their display of scout-work each afternoon has never failed to attract all the visitors within sight.

The camp, too, was always a source of interest, and many were the compliments paid to the boys for the manner in which it has been kept. If they were camping out the year round they could not be any more expert in keeping their tents and the surrounding neat and clean, and their bedding and accoutrements tidy.

This morning a number of the scouts took part in the demonstration of work and methods by the St. John Ambulance Association. All the troops are trained in first-aid work, and those who have won the shield which is a recognition of their proficiency in the competition acquired themselves well.

Yesterday afternoon the Fairview troop, under Scoutmaster Frampton, formerly of this city, were received at Government House by his honor the lieutenant-governor. This troop is this year the winner of the shield which is a recognition of their proficiency in the competition acquired themselves well.

His honor addressed the boys, who were drawn up on the lawn, and expressed his congratulations to them on their success, and on the efficiency they had shown in all branches of scout work. He mentioned his great interest in the movement, which was calculated to be of great value to the boys who were in it, and would train them up as future defenders of their country.

The troop gave the lieutenant-governor the salute at the close of his remarks, and afterwards were entertained hospitably by His Honor and Mrs. Paterson.
